11	Calculation seems far too high compared to the actual worth of the CPP. We are counting our chickens before they hatch and shouldn't be basing all the numbers off $344 billion.				Pulling out of the CPP, and it's historically better return percentage, would not be good for Albertans. They have bulk buying power when it comes to investments and lower admin costs. This feels like a money grab to prop up Alberta specific industries that DO NOT have the same returns. AIMCo already did this with LAPP funds.
12	Ensure that the interests of Albertans are protected through the pension migration.	Arrange for a public RFP process to ensure transparency and preference of the majority			Thank you and congratulations for leading our way through this transition. Please ensure that the structures honor accountability and transparency to maximize trust; our public institutions are lacking that these days.
13		I would prefer to remain in CPP and not have an Alberta pension plan.	Leave our pension in CPP.		This is a bias survey and does not ask the most important question on if Albertans want their own pension plan. Albertans would like you to leave your pension in the CPP. The survey is obviously trying to skew the results to support the APP, but that is clearly not the case. I have contributed to the CPP my entire life and given Alberta's past investment strategy/returns I would prefer to have my pension managed by CPP.
14	According to the Fair Deal Panel, an Alberta Pension Plan did not have support from Albertans and they still recommended it. Why arenâ€™t these Panels listening to Albertans? Will this new Panel also ignore what Albertans want.				Stay with CPP. Anytime government tries to do something to save money (like insurance, electricity costs etc) it ends up costing us more. Trying to advance Albertaâ€™s autonomy by pushing things which the majority do not want is a waste of time and resources.
15	N/A				An Alberta Pension Plan does not take into account people who do not plan to live in Alberta their entire lives. I think giving people an option to opt in or out of the Alberta Pension Plan is ideal. Why make a young person, who could move provinces before being able to use the Alberta Pension Plan, pay into a pension plan they won't be able to access due to moving provinces?

18	They cannot be used for anything else -- unlike the Heritage Fund - we can't have government using the pension funds for capital or other projects.			not Oil and Gas.	IF (a big IF) this happens -- we need a guarantee that our current contributions will be protected. I've been paying into CPP for 45 years and I don't want it to suddenly evaporate. Also need assurances that the program is protected and will not be used a government slush fund

24	If an APP can realize $5B in savings per year, why can't existing programs realize the same or better improvements? Transitioning to private systems can appear to have initial benefits by Alberta has mixed success in doing this (e.g., DynaLife) what assurances will be guaranteed to mitigate the risk for beneficiaries without this project becoming another social loss?				Before undertaking this type of project does it have clear measurable goals and achievable deliverables, can it be implemented as proposed, and is there full transparency throughout and have all risks been mitigated before Albertans vote on it. Also, what does success look like in this project and what assurances will be guaranteed to make it happen. This has to be more than political rhetoric and another boondoggle with Albertans holding an empty bag.
25	I am not in support of the APP.	NO APP!	NO APP!	NO APP!!!!	The fact you are even considering this is such a waste of time and resources. Get your heads out of your asses and hands off the CPP!

31	There is no way that this province will get what you're assuming we will get so this survey is, as usual, based on faulty logic and mathematics. Given the how this government has mismanaged our money already in the pension funds they've taken over, this will end in heartache for Albertans.	Be realistic and stop this initiative.	Leave our funds in the CPP and give up this misinformed initiative.		I will vigorously oppose this initiative. The current CPP is separate from government. I have contributed over my worklife and I get a pension in return. The telling people that they'll have more 'money in their pockets' is short-term thinking for something that needs long-term results. It sets more people up to be poorer in retirement. Stop it!

32					How will we get our retirement benefits? If it is through the My Alberta Digital ID, I am very leery. If itâ€™s anything like the recent affordability payments for seniors, it will be a farce. I tried signing my senior spouse up for the $100 / month payments for seven months. He needed a My Alberta Digital ID, and it kept saying he already has an account. So we tried to change the password, and it said he didnâ€™t have an account. So we just gave up! Also, how will seniors already getting their CPP be impacted? Will their monthly benefits go up? How about the ability to collect Old Age Security? Will that continue?
33
34	If this comes to pass how will you ensure that employers are not bearing the cost of upgrading accounting systems with new software in order to apply this type of Alberta setup?				I think going down this road is opening up a can of worms that will be exceedingly difficult to maintain and administer! I do not approve.

56	Yeah right, you're going to take my money from a proven prudently managed plan and move it elsewhere.... Just remember this is MY money.				As a retiree, moving to a pie in the sky APP would make me seriously consider moving elsewhere in Canada
57	Should not be used for anymore else except pension fund				I'm old enough to remember the Principal group fiasco so the APP should be secure without government influence
58	Consider how expensive it is to live now a days, especially with the high interest rates.				None other than I agree that Alberta should have their own Pension Plan
59	Market risk with investments, CPP has a better buying pool with the number contributors, Alberta managed funds have a poor track record and will need better PR look at the Heritage Fund and the UCP contribution to the pipe line that fell through and the spending to the War Room	I do not think pensions should be a provincially managed item	I do not think that pensions should be a provincially managed item with the track record of the UCP and its inveestments, see the fall out of DynaLife and no word on the costs to the tax payers yet	APP is overstepping, waste of tax payer dollar	Pensions require a stable investment plan, not high risk/return. The UPC does not have the track record with their investment choices (Heritage Fund, pipeline, War Room, DynaLife, provincial lab cancellation), for me to trust any part of my retirement to them. This is a waste of tax payers time and money.
61	As a recent retiree who hasn't triggered CPP benefits, I am not in support of AB separating from the federal program. It complicates interprovincial working and further isolates AB.	Continue as-is.. creating a provincial pension program is not a valid option	'Our' funds are Canadian funds.. stay with CPP.	Flawed AB assumptions and calculations.	There is nothing materially wrong with CPP. Ludacris to assume CPP will dole over anything close to the amount AB is expecting. Stop politicizing the federal program and creating resentment towards AB from the rest of our country. We are a fortunate 'have' province and contribute more than others but more importantly we are Canadian first.

72	Using some of said money to diversify our province and put us in a better position globally. But also not turning our back on our bread and butter oil and gas that being said I don't think we should use our pension to fund oil/gas though that's putting our futures at risk. Fund oil and gas like you have been not with our pensions. Im all for oil and gas but do not use my pension to fund it. Period. .				If you are going to use are money for oil and gas sector do it smart thinking about our future and where the planet is realisticiy heading not whats best for those gaint corporations that dont honesty care about what we leave our kids behind. Like I've said before I made my living off oil/gas everyone in aiberta does one way or another just don't see our province out.
73	The idea of an APP, governed by Alberta, lower premiums and increased benefits are awesome. This was already discussed, but the security of assets is very important. One more somewhat unrelated note: how would you identify people from QB and supporters of Feds taking part in this survey from outside Alberta? OR is this survey for all, and not only for Albertans?				Can we take the next steps faster? :)
74					Keep your hands off of my CPP. Leave my pension where it is.

I am close to retirement and I don't want this Alberta Pension Plan to screw up my retirement plans. It is all based on what you think the assets you can take out, not what will really happen. Don't mess up my retirement plans. While the benefits of an APP are required to be comparable to the CPP, I would want the qualification requirements to match what exists for the CPP as well. For example, the age of when you can start receiving the benefits. Also, taking into account years spent taking care of children. Having the APP match the CPP for these considerations and others would make the access of the benefits fair for Albertans.

138		The CPPIP is regarded as a world-class pension manager whose model has been adopted by other nations and pension schemes worldwide. Engaging the private sector, or attempting to replicate the CPPIB at the Alberta level, would be a catastrophic mistake.	The CPPIB has consistently outperformed AIMCO historically, and withdrawal of Alberta's assets from CPPIB's governance would be nothing short of gambling Alberta's future on a whim that our provincial government can perform better than a world-class pension management company.		It is clear why the APP was not a central focus of the UCP's campaign in the most recent election - Albertans do not want the UCP's reckless management of our province's resources and future to extend to their pension. Withdrawal from the CPP would be a horrendous miscalculation that will impact our province for generations to come.

Otherwise, I am reluctant to support messing around with pension funds and the potential costs/risks involved. I don't think CPP is poorly managed (a recent report from National Bank of Canada suggested that recently, it has been a strong performer vs. similar funds), though perhaps it needs to be better funded. This survey (and the whole project behind it) is poorly put-together, inherently biased, and demonstrates a serious lack of respect for Albertans on an incredibly important and complicated issue. More than a little shameful.
209	Focus on investing in Alberta	A 3rd party private company would be at managing the money long term	Private wealth Funds would be better at managing money long tern than any government agency	Set out guide line for investment and returns.	Set up a pension plan that can't be changed with a new government. And have the money managed by a 3rd party company.
210	Make premiums more attractive to employers so more companies want to be based here				We should not do this. It makes no sense how a how fund with less money and less people contributing can make more than CPP. Iâ€™m very concerned this is a ploy for the Conservative Party to give all this money to their friends and Albertans will be left high and dry. Also what happens if you move from Alberta will you still be able to collect your contributions when you retire?

215					It is an incredibly dumb idea. If implemented I will be moving to British Columbia or Ontario to stay in the CPP. I do not care if I have to pay higher contributions. I do not trust this government to manage our pension funds.

Leaving more to estate then family members in a will decide how much common law receives somehow. Lots of family fights if left at 1 year of partner dies.				Thanks. Alberta has always overcontributed to CPP and transfer, equalization with no thanks from Canadians. Enough. Leave CPP plan. Also save some APP money into heritage fund somehow. Trudeau must go. Liberals and ndp hate Alberta. They are both separating Canada. It's Alberta's money. Stop wasting,spending our money liberals. Otherwise seperate Alberta.

237	A middle route is probably preferable. Some benefits to be passed on as increased savings and payouts, but some additional stability as well. Especially as the report scenario assumes Alberta will become demographically similar to the RoC over the long run.	Opt for a mixed approach	Why not diversify?	No slush funds, no china	I think it would be short sighted to plow all the potential savings from a separate pension into a single strategy. Distribute savings between stability, savings, payouts and cost reductions. Diversify the fund management. And NO CHINA.
238	BETTER HEALTH PLAN FOR SEIORS
239	None of this makes any sense to be honest. Just another 'stick it to Ottawa' or 'blame Trudeau' moment from the most radical right government in our province's history. Only the positives listed which will play well to all the lifelong Blue voters in this province. Give us the other side of the coin. If this is so good, why now and not with any other Con Government?
240	The money saved should definitely be shared amongst everyone. By that I mean people paying in and seniors who have paid into CPP all their life.	If an APP is started, it needs to be invested solely for those who contribute. Nothing and I mean 0, goes to the government. It is not to be used for a rainy day slush fund PERIOD!!	It has to be put somewhere safe for the people contributing into it.		If it goes to APP then it should be for Albertains only. Not for the government to dip into and not to other provinces.

243	Save for the future. have back up savings account for emergency funding purposes				Keep up with inflation..the minimal increases currently gave driven seniors into poverty. Also..the current death benefit is a joke..that needs to increase. Widow pensions shoukx also i crease anx take jntk accout half of househld income is lost when there is a death of a spouse, thus causing i..immediate poverty to the surviving spooouse.
244	Can you consider that nobody actually wants to do this?That Albertans have friends and family in other parts of the country? That they may want to move to and from and appreciate that mobility? How embarrassing and sad would it be for us if we created a two tiered system that drives the country apart?	I would literally look for any way I'd have to remove contributions to APP and move it back to CPP or personally invest.	I hate this idea with a burning passion	What's the text limit lmao	Yeah I hate this idea with a burning passion. 253	Don't create an APP. Leave my CPP alone and stop trying to create animosity amongst Canadians!				This report doesn't take into account that oil and gas is finite and Alberta will become poorer in the years to come. Completely irresponsible idea to go down this road. We are Canadians first, not Albertans. UCP froze indexation before when oil went down for poor and disabled people and will find a way to do the same with an APP, even though the current rules say this can't happen. Danielle's AB first not withstanding clause come to mind? An APP must not be developed!

255	Consider the fund's ability to direct this towards long-term investments to attract talent in key sectors for the 21st and 22nd century.				I believe we should have say over our pension fund as Albertans, and I believe this type of opportunity can genuinely diversify Alberta by bringing capital in and ultimately funding in/direct innovation
256	This is a very important and truly beneficial plan of the Alberta Government to put forward and about time to give importance to the hardworking people of this province. I hope the panel will consider to implement full pension at age 60 instead of 65 to fully enjoy the benefits instead of waiting 5 or 10 years more. Thank you.	It's logical to use the existing CPP provider let's say for the first 3 years and slowly transition to a much better plan administrator with consensus from Albertans.	Again, if to be managed by APP management, people should be educated on the people that comprises the management board.	Not to be used in anything political.	This was presented with the intention of making better the lives of Albertans and looking to the future where equal benefits will be enjoyed by all.

263		Not known at this time			If, in the bottom line, my existing CPP payments remain the same, why would I want to switch? Further, I am after all is said and done a Canadian before I am albertan, and, as such, I would like to know how the removal of these funds From CPP coffers will affect my fellow Canadians outside Alberta! I feel that this is perhaps Alberta’s first step to gaining independence from Canada and establishing the country of Alberta. The only thing I would answer to that little foray would be “œlast one out close the lights)
264	Establish a transparent investment strategy statement that states the role of the APP and the investment vehicles it is allowed to invest in. Counter any impression that investments are being made for political purposes. This would be counter to how the Quebec PP operates - making political investments, such as their historical Bombardier investments.	A key focus should be on value delivered / lowest admin costs.	A key focus should be on value delivered / lowest admin costs.
265		AimCo	AimCo		It does not seem like it would make sense to create an entirely new organization to manage an Alberta Pension Plan. By putting the funds into AimCo, they could be invested alongside other pension plans and the Heritage Fund in order to give more scale to the investment arm, which should allow it to maximize returns not only for the Alberta Pension Plan, but for the other funds currently in AimCo, as well.
266	They must be restricted to pension funding or growth. Period.	No private sector. This is too important to trust to anything that is corruptable.	No private sector involvement is acceptable.	No use of private sector investment management.	I am profoundly against a move away from the CPP. I have no trust in provincial management of our pension.

It will not help our population. We will not get what you are claiming we are owed and it will cripple our economy. Learn from the mistakes that the United Kingdom made, do not abandon what we have.

274	They should consider that establishing an APP is not and has not to date been met with public support and as such a violation of public trust	Use the existing CPP provider	The Alberta government should not proceed with the creation of a APP	Lack of public support for an Alberta Pension Plan	The creation of an Alberta Pension Plan is clearly politically motivated and against the best interest of Albertans. We should have been another Norway by now.	Are you kidding me? You cannot even get the Heritage Fund right. We should have been another Norway by now.	I do not support this.	You had better give careful consideration to the debt you will incur leaving the CPP; it is not just an 'asset' of billions holding. Remember working 6-figure intellectual asset-based professionals like me who will leave Alberta immediately if your silly referendum green-lights this absurd idea. I am disgusted at this direction of this tone-deaf government who I did not vote for and will never support.
280	The real numbers, who they apply to and who will get benefits not just Alberta hut also thise who contributed in AB and now live elsewhere	Remove gov. influence - seperate panel, current pension investment huge faikure due to gov control and influence			Not a good idea AB small percentage of Canadian workforce strength in numbers. 282	I read all 95 pages of the study and IMO it is deeply flawed. The amount of transfer to APP is hugely overestimated and the liabilities are grossly understated. I know of many pensioners now living in other provinces and I paid CPP in Manitoba for many years so who's responsible for those pensions? Looking at AIMCO's performance I have little faith in a provincial entity being successful compared to the CPP board. Overall this is a BAD idea.				BAD assumptions and a bad idea.

284	There is no place in this survey for me to say that I am vehemently opposed to an APP. Leave the CPP assets alone, our pensions should not be used for a political agenda. It's a terrible idea and Albertans will be poorer for it. Quebec has twice our population and cannot match the returns in the CPP. It's a world class fund, and wasting it for political points will leave lasting damage for Albertans to deal with. We already underfund social services and are not redy for a wave of seniors in poverty. Please keep your hands off of our retirement. I don't want to have to be a Walmart greeter at 90.	Leave CPP alone and don't create an APP.	Leave CPP alone and don't create an APP.	Leave CPP alone and don't create an APP.	Leave CPP alone and don't create an APP. This is a terrible idea. There is no way an APP can compete long term with the returns of the CPP, we just don't have the population. Bigger pools mitigate risk, as can be seen when looking at QPP. Their contributions are much higher just to get the same payout as CPP, and Quebec has double the population that we have. We have severely underfunded social programs over the last 20 years, so there is no way we will be prepared for the wave to seniors living in poverty if this comes about.

I vote conservative and this is BS, I don't want my savings to be taken over by someone else thinking they can manage it better when it does just fine now. Leave the CPP and if you want give us an opt in to something that would allow us to save money and grow Alberta if we want and have the cash to do so. 342	If the APP comes about, there's a economic development opportunity of transferring of trades manufacturing and major investment and technology, to be courted to Alberta as a whole	The ability of the stake holders 'Albertans ' to be engaged first-hand if they so wish to.	A difficult question, because each part of the province would have a self interest.	You always get what you pay for. 361	If the size of the funds and interest gained can cover inflation. Payments out should reflect this. Increasing payments in should only be an option if inflation is higher than interest+growth of the fund allows.	With an APP auditor, rules for the Alberta private sector should administored. The auditor is only there to make sure rules are being followed and to initiate investigations into potential rule breakers. They will also do the yearly audits to see where growth in funds can be distributed. Bonus or raises need to be directly linked to the performance of the fund under their control, also cannot be higher than inflation or higher than payment+saving.	APP board is there to audit, manage rules, initiate investigations. Private sectors that have had offices or more in Alberta can partake in offering investment options. But contacts must state any bonus or raise must be directly linked to performance of fund, savings to contributors, or payments increases to retires.		No raise or bonus can approved by same level of management. Example, APP board must get approval from Alberta government. No raise can be over inflation. Bonuses must be directly linked to performance of funds.

Don't even contemplate this at all	Don't even contemplate this at all	more consultation required	This process should not be considered any further. An Alberta Pension Plan should not be created	An Alberta Pension Plan should not be created	An Alberta Pension Plan should not be created	An Alberta Pension Plan will cost money to implement in the short term that would be better spend elsewhere, and in the long term will not continue to benefit Albertans because the demographic advantaged is expected to diminish over time. Losses from investments that have been made at the hands of the conservative parties in Alberta does not inspire confidence in this government to manage something like a pension plan. Not private sector	Should this plan come to fruition, whomsoever manages this fund must not be in the private sector. This is Albertan's money, and must remain in our control, and the management team must be answerable to us. Not to shareholders who are interested in ever increasing profits off our hard work. Furthermore, I do believe this is an absolute mistake to withdraw from CPP.
398	They might wish to consider that there won't be any new assets and that there likely would be a shortfall instead.				I will vote for whomever is planning on staying with the existing CPP. Forming an APP seems like a complete waste of money at best and a dangerous gamble. It also seems like an intentional gift quite possibly.
399	They should not worry about that since the Alberta Pension plan is a short sighted and foolish endeavour by the Premier and the UCP to further take advantage of their constituents. 537	You should give your head a shake and use actual numbers and not ones that exist in Danielle Smiths head. This is a stupid idea. No way is Alberta owed or ever going to get 334 billion from the CPP. And of couse the big worry is. Were would the money be invested? Let me guess. The oil industy?				Its a bad idea. If it happens we will leave Alberta. The final nail in the coffin for us. Never did I think I would miss Jason Kenney. Until Danielle Smith came along and showed us that even a brain dead conspiracy theorist could be elected premier.

539	Should only be implemented if Objectively better in every category than CPP. Not better in some areas but worse in others. Only when categorically better in every category - else leave it be.	Buy into CPP plan	Lower admin cost by intermingling with CPP account.	Disconnect from ruling parties. Independent panel	APP is a misguided attempt and universally unwanted. A surefire way to loose the next election and alienate pensioners.

Ensure O&G industry has financing available for expansion.	ATB	ATB or other third party provincial body		Remove interaction from any business engaged in ESG and any Federal integration that may harm Alberta interests regardless of political party in power or unelected government officials or cabal with personal ESG & DEI agendas.

552	Do NOT establish Alberta pension plan. There is no reason or need for it. Taxpayers have paid into CPP, not Alberta, so Alberta is not entitled to do whatever the government wants with the CPP. Let us retire in peace after slaving under capitalism so that we can hardly afford food and board while politicians live in excess.	WE DONT NEED APP	Please use your power to do something that will actually help us. We need public health care to not be doing an absolute nosedive, public dental care and rent control. Stop creating fake problems to show some "œdivideœ between alberta and canada. Nobody wants this.

Donœ™t create a provincial pension plan	Donœ™t create a provincial pension plan		I have no faith in a UCP government and I donœ™t believe in creating separate provincial pension plans. How about the government focus on diversifying our economy or legalizing controlled substances and using the proceeds to invest in better healthcare including mental health. Stop messing around with our pensions. This is an atrocious idea.

556	The panel should consider their own lack of competence in deciding whether they should continue with an APP.		Do not create an APP		Do not create an APP. This will be disastarous for Alberta. You will be making Alberta into the laughing stock of the world.

I do not want an Alberta Pension Plan

561	ABSOLUTELY NO ALBERTA PENSION PLAN. THE CCP IS PHENOMENONAL!	I cannot trust Alberta to properly manage the plan	I cannot trust Alberta to properly manage this fund	I cannot trust Alberta to manage this fund	I cannot trust an Alberta pension plan
562	The Panel should consider the fact that these 'engagement' questions are propaganda like and greatly ASSUME that the fund will do well. Question 3 and 8 leads you to answer about a surplus when no one has achieved a surplus -- those questions should not be there at all -- or at least there should be answers about what do we do in a loss situation.		Leave CPP alone	Leave CPP alone.	The CPP is doing just fine and Alberta has no right to even suggest that this should change -- spend time trying to deal with doctor shortages, uncapped utility and insurance rates if you are actually worried about the working people of this province. Your efforts with the AB Teacher's Pension have been abysmal - leave things out of your jurisdiction which are doing just fine ALONE.

563	100 % of the plans investments should be made out side of the province to ensure the plan is not exposed to the boom and busts of the Alberta economy			These funds should not be invested in Alberta	This is a terrible idea, creates unnecessary red tape and start up costs. Please reconsider this path as it is not one that will benefit Albertans in the long term. In the unfortunate event the Government of Alberta does proceed with this plan fund absolutely should not invested in Alberta but invested in diversified investments across the world as to not tie the risk of this pension plan to Alberta economy similar to how Norway invests the Government Pension Fund Global.
564	I think an Alberta Pension Plan is a terrible idea! We have a strong performing and diverse fund in the CPP. The whole idea of a APP is ridiculous and unnecessary and will guarantee that I will not vote for the UCP.	Leave our Canada Pension Plan alone	Leave our Canada Pension Plan alone		I think the idea of a APP is absurd! My pension money is well handled and safe and secure in the CPP. The CPP has strength in the vast numbers of contributors from across Canada and it's diverse worldwide investment portfolio. I believe an APP will be mishandled by the Alberta government and result in a disproportionate and foolish investment in Alberta oil and gas industry. It's irresponsible and unnecessary and is gross negligence in the handling of my and my fellow Canadian's hard earned pension contributions.

568	The panel should consider not establishing an Alberta Pension Plan as the estimated 'savings' are concocted from hopes and dreams and have no place in reality.	Let a chimpanzee administer the plan	Roll a dice to make asset decisions	Freetext is too long	Seriously, dismiss the entire 'Alberta First' lunacy that led to the fever dream of a provincial pension plan, let alone one that only makes itself financially appealing by appropriating the majority of CPP assets in order to push the false narrative that a smaller fund with less diversity and higher admin costs would somehow benefit Albertans.
569	Dental, and prescription coverage for seniors				I think its a great idea, it also needs to be protected from govt agency's dipping into it for other things. For example Trudeau and his carbon emission tax that really does nothing to reduce emissions.

Assuming Alberta will receive 53% of the CPP assets is a pipe dream at best. Way more homework to be done before you end up in court trying to defend this

	V	AA	AG	AN	AO

What about people moving into the Province? Will their CPP contributions have to be withdrawn and deposited in the APP? How about our out of province workers? Those fly in/out people who's primary residence is in another Province but work in Alberta. Will they be paying both APP and CPP?	Stay in the CPP	Stay in the CPP	Stay in the CPP	This is not supported by Albertans and based on flawed assumption to put your push for the APP into a better light. Do not remove Alberta and Albertans from the best run fund in the world to 'Stick it to Ottawa'.

Refusing to answer because I don't want to validate this terrible plan.	Questions invalid--keep Alberta in the CPP. No wonder the UCP was too cowardly to run on this issue during the election. Deceitful, underhanded villains.

612	Unless legislated to do so, I have no confidence that this government will properly manage the $$.	Are you serious!?! You want to set up an Alberta pension plan, but potentially have it managed by CPP? I would hope that the CPP Investment Board would tell you to take a hike	Ok, this is ridiculous. It's a bad idea, but I was hoping to give some feedback, and learn something. To even consider involving the private sector is obscene		I'm not sure how this would be administered, when recipients are spread all through the country. I foresee a disaster. The CPP is one of the things Canadians should be proud of, that gives Canadians a bit of financial security. But you know what? After taking this survey and stewing, I'm thinking it's best that Alberta just leave Canada, lock stock and barrel. Just go. I personally will be leaving in about a year, and can hardly wait. We're moving to another province to start a small business and will gladly continue to pay into CPP while we're there.	DON'T TOUCH MY CPP	Scrap APP. DO NOT TOUCH MY CPP. I DO NOT CONSENT	Quit trying to screw with people's futures.	The Alberta pension plan is an absolute sham. I do not consent to my CPP being messed with. I do not consent to the funds that I have contributed to the CPP being pulled into a new APP. This is one of the many reasons why my family is leaving this province. Things like this should never ever be forced forward without a referendum showing a clear 3/4 majority preference.

627
628		Return to CPP	Return Asset to CPP investment		I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed Alberta Pension Plan (APP). While I appreciate the desire for provincial autonomy, creating a separate pension plan for Alberta poses significant risks and drawbacks. The Canada Pension Plan (CPP) is a well-established, efficient, and nationally recognized program. It benefits from economies of scale, cost-effectiveness, and prudent investments. A provincial plan, like the APP, would lack these advantages and might even increase administrative costs, reducing overall returns. Furthermore, a provincial plan could introduce complexities for Canadians who move between provinces, potentially undermining their retirement security. Rather than creating a separate pension plan, I believe it is more prudent to explore collaborative efforts with the federal government and other provinces to enhance and improve the CPP. This approach would ensure the financial well-being of Albertans while maintaining the benefits of a national program. I urge you to reconsider the APP and focus on solutions that best serve the interests and financial security of our province's residents.

659					CPP has been a well-established system throughout Canadian history for nearly 70 years. The choice to remove ourselves from the federal CPP program and engage in running our own system separates us from the rest of Canada, and makes us more like Quebec. I am not a fan of this. Alberta already does this with its tax system, we are the only province (again, Quebec excepted) where we need to file separate provincial and federal income taxes. Whether the provincial government is a fan or not of the federal party should not be a part of the equation, neither the investment decisions of the CPP investors. The point of CPP is stability, long-term, reliable, slow-but-steady gains stability for when a citizen retires. If the Alberta government wants to influence federal policy, then work with the federal government. Going full Quebec separatist because of a pension plan is an extreme solution to a merely not-quite-up-to-par situation with CPP. I am a conservative by nature; I do not think that massive changes to retirement benefits are the biggest issues facing Alberta at this time. This is not a worthwhile subject to continue with. If APP were to be administered in addition to CPP, then perhaps it is worthwhile. 5 billion dollars could easily provide massive infrastructure and affordable housing, instead of campaigning to grandstand on CPP.
661	Do Not establish the APP. I say this with the utmost kindness but none of you are qualified to be managing this. I am in my prime working career, making more than the average Albertan family, and I will leave this province to a higher tax province because the risk of mismanagement through your government is more risk than I can justify. I grew up in Alberta. I don't want to leave if I don't have to, but you are a ghoulish bunch.	Create an APP administrator is a false choice. That's just another 'Engage the private sector.' Don't establish the APP.	how are APP Investment Board and APP management different? false choice.	Don't siphon even more of my pension into oO&G	Don't do it. You are way out of your depth. Fix actual problems rather than pretend problems. Diversify the province's economy. Fund education and Healthcare through the public system. You should be embarrassed to be so entirely devoid of long-term planning capabilities. For the majority of Albertans (not you own personal needs).
662
663					I would not switch. I do not trust this government to set this up properly or to run it well. I do not trust the UCP at all, especially their leader.
664					I do not wish to see my CPP moved to Alberta.

	V	AA	AG	AN	AO
665	Request more realistic math and data regarding the actual transfer from the CPP. If this is an economic decision, or an ideological one.				This is strictly an ideological ploy to distract Albertans from ongoing mismanagement of the province by the UCP. All levels of government need to stop picking fights with each other and learn to govern better.

667
668	What if the stock market tanks or oil dives back to $50 a barrel - then pension benefits might become a net liability - can you handle that? Perhaps a certain segment should be gold backed?	It is well known on Wall Street that if you got crap assets to sell, you sell to the dumb money such as pension plans. So, you need the best of the best here. How has CPP been historically performing?		No ESG, NFTs or Bitcoin (re: FTX scandal)	It's a good idea
669					No.
670
671	The panel should consider reinvesting the assets into the Canada Pension Plan as an ALberta Pension Plan is a foolish idea that will not be able to be implemented the way the panel and UCP believe it can.	Remain with the CPP and do not pursue an APP	Remain with the CPP and do not pursue an APP	Not pursuing an Alberta Pension Plan at all.	We should stay with the CPP as it is among the most stable and successful pension plans in the world. An Alberta Pension Plan would not be able to receive nearly the amount of funds as laid out in the report and thus would not nearly have the same returns. This survey is clearly biased in its questions, but we will show you how we feel come the referendum.
672	Not establishing an APP and having clear communication of risks along with benefits of this action.	Cpp keep it public at all costs.	Keep it public at all cost	keep the app as it is a public service.	Keep the pension public as it is a public service. No private industry or management
673			Leave it alone		Leave it with CPP, it is already one of the best plans in the world, switching it to a provincial plan will not benefit Albertans in the future. Even the questions here are geared towards transferring the wealth to the baby boomers right now and having less in the future.
674
675					If the UCP proceeds with this I will leave the province permanently. I do not trust the crooks in the legislature to do right by us when the CPP is ranked #4 in the world for public pensions.
676					Get out of the CPP immediately. People in my age group will never see a dollar return from this even though I pay in substantially more than those across the country. Nothing proposed is unique or unheard of as Quebec is already doing the same. Assuming the values provided in the report are correct and verifiable, this should be completed immediately.

680					I do not want an Alberta Pension Plan. I think it is a terrible idea for many reasons. I want to continue with CPP. This survey is a shockingly badly designed survey. It starts with the premise that people want an Alberta Pension Plan. I do not know anyone who wants this. Please do not proceed with an Alberta pension plan.
682	Scrap the entire APP entirely. I vehemently oppose this ridiculous scheme and will not have my answers in this survey twisted for political gain.	Don't have an APP at all. Problems solved.	Don't have an APP at all. Problem solved.	Keeping the CPP	This absolute farce of a government is more interested in childishly sticking it to the federal government rather than actually doing anything to benefit Albertans. 697	The Panel should consider that Premier Smith has done nothing but lie to us since Day One, and that this is a terrible idea. Albertans have been paying into CPP for years, are we going to see that money come back? Of course not, Smith is going to quietly pocket the money for her party and buy support. LEAVE OUR PENSION PLAN ALONE. Furthermore, the fact that there have so far been no options to say NO to this ridiculous proposal in this 'survey' is disgusting. Just another example of how Smith and her cronies aren't truly interested in what the people want, only in what benefits them. GET SMITH OUT.	Leave CPP alone.	Leave CPP alone.	Consider that our Premier is a moron.	Two-hundred words is not enough to express how awful and incompetent Danielle Smith and the UCP are. She and her party are ruining Alberta. They need to leave CPP alone and stop trying to destroy Alberta and its inhabitants.

HANDS OFF MY CPP. NO APP. LEAVE OUR MONEY ALONE.	HANDS OFF MY CPP. LEAVE OUR MONEY ALONE. NO APP.	This extreme, separatist movement does NOTHING to serve working class Albertans. It will take our hard earned dollars that have been contributed to the EFFECTIVE CPP and will pilfer them, to line oil executive pockets and be used as a spending account for the UCP. We will retire with nothing, and die with nothing if the CPP is lost and our money is STOLEN by this greedy government. NO APP. HANDS OFF MY CPP.

	V	AA	AG	AN	AO
706	DO NOT PULL OUT OF CPP We cannot afford to lose the stability of the CPP. Consistent cuts to employee benefits and conservative anti-union efforts have made it so that my future does not guarantee a retirement fund or pension beyond my personal contributions and CPP. The UCP culture war against the federal government IS A BAD DEAL for Albertans and you will sink this province with your short-sighted ideological fight.	Donâ€™t pull out of CPP in the first place	Donâ€™t pull out of CPP in the first place	Do not pull out of CPP.	Do not pull out of CPP. The benefits you are seeking are derived from keeping our money in CPP, and not trying to bring the administration under our province. This is my only guaranteed pension because our jobs do not provide these benefits anymore. You are ruining my future by proceeding with this half-baked scheme.

If I can't reject the APP in favour of the CPP, then I'll be rejecting Alberta in favour of some other province. You're choosing for all Albertans who have diligently paid into CPP for their entire lives that 'we know better than everyone else in Canada'. We don't. You don't. It's gross. When the Alberta government has invested and gone head to head with the CPP in terms of raw monetary return it typically underperforms. I despise this program and in no uncertain terms will cost Albertans their future and for current retirees is playing roulette with money that is not yours to gamble with.

Sure the CPP isn't perfect, but there are a lot of resources that are being put into the APP currently that could be better used in other places. Reducing emissions in our energy sector, Healthcare, housing, infrastructure projects, to name a few. I also struggle to see what this would look like if I left Alberta and moved somewhere else in BC. I strongly disagree with the Alberta Government spending time and money on anything to do with an Alberta Pension Plan.
860	Quit with the fucking bullshit. My money my choice? Really!! I'm a fucking Canadian and CHOSE to keep my fucking CPP, regardless of what the yahoos vote for. Where the fuck do I get that option??????????				Leave my fucking money alone!
861	The CPP is one of the best managed pensions in the world, and having slightly more assets in would not be worth divesting from the CPP	Dont swap to the APP, keep going with the CPP as is.	Dont start an APP and sick with the CPP	The CPP does its administration exceedingly well.	Forcing through an APP is unnecessary and will just duplicate systems that are already in place and providing economies of scale federally. With the CPP being one of the best managed pension funds available there is no reason to change.

871	CPPIB has outperformed AIMCO consistently over time... how can anyone possibly trust the Government of Alberta not to screw this up? The size and scope of CPPIB investments is protection through diversification that an APP simply cannot provide. Please stop messing with our retirement security for blatant political motivations.	Do not pursue the APP at all.			An APP reeks of partisan manipulation. The report is fundamentally flawed and needs to be critically evaluated by independent experts. AIMCO typically UNDER performs its peers internationally and should have NOTHING to do with an potential APP. Ideally the GoA will abandon this flight of fancy and leave Albertan's protected with CPP not an APP. Portability across Canada is key for work mobility and talent attraction. An APP will quickly become a major deterrent to attract as well as retaining talent.

885	I find the supposition in the report flawed. Alberta’s contributions to CPP are no different to our having to pay equalization payments. The present taxation system is fair. The CPP system is fair. Just because we might benefit from withdrawing our contributions to CPP doesn’t mean we should. Canadians inherently look after each other. What this feels like is Albertans throwing their toys out of the crib. We are not children.		Keep using CPP		Keep the plan the way it is. We are Canadians first and Albertans second. We are not a separate country and I have no desire to see us move in that direction.

It is an isolationist and short sighted decision based on greed rather than evidence	No one or entity associated with the provincial government or private business	Stick with CPP as is. Fail safe needs to be implemented in case (GOD forbid) NDP or Liberals win the elections in the future and will want to switch back.

901					I am firmly opposed to Alberta exiting the Canadian Pension Plan to create the APP. The CPP is one of the most highly rated pension funds in the world. Exiting it would be travesty for Alberta. Additionally, the figures that have been presented by your government are misleading and untrue. Alberta is not entitled to 53% of the Canadian Pension Plan nor would it be feasible for our government to obtain this figure.
902	You are assuming there will be 'new assets.' This is a very risky assumption. For the record, I strongly oppose the creation of an APP. So strongly that I started looking for work as soon as the UCP won the election. My house is sokd and I am moving to BC in October. I am a highly skilled, well-educated professional. This madness is driving people like me out of the province.	Don't create an APP!!!	Don't create an APP!!	Don't create an APP!!	This is such a terrible idea. Don't do it!!! I was on track to retire at 65, mortgage free. I will no longer be able to do that because of my move (which I believe was necessary). The UCP has decimated me financially with their reckless, wasteful gambling with our tax dollars. You are NOT conservatives. You are foolish, spendthrift, wasteful ideologues.
903	One thing missing is the rates of return the CPP fund can generate considering their enormous size. The APP is unlikely to achieve the same return and my concern is that is missing from the calculations. As well weâ€™d have to pay higher fees to have more civil servants administer and run the funds.				While this looks like a slam dunk itâ€™s far from that. Additional red tape and additional filing requirements would be placed on businesses. The plan would cost more the implement than current and lâ€™m just unsure and worry about abuse and lack of oversight on a massive fund like this.

As Canadians, our allegiance lies with our nation first and foremost, with our provincial identity taking a secondary position. Therefore, it is crucial that we are provided with extensive details elucidating the impact this proposal will have on our fellow Canadian, family member and friends.

Keep a stability amount of the assets based on a 'starter fund' and calculate the amount expected annually from the current workforce. Any additional money from the assets remaining should be distributed back to retirees. Perferably tax free since they have already paid taxes from earning the income to begin with.				Questions: 1. What happens when the federal government fights the initial asset? This will absolutely happen as we are asking for a huge amount even though the amount does belong to AB taxpayers. 2. Will current and future pensioners be negatively effected in any way that you foresee? 3. Will the AB government agree to stay out of it once policy is established and working? (Small government) 4. Will anyone 18 to 64 have their future pensions impacted negatively that you can foresee? I am intrigued by the idea but nervous of the massive change. This is a huge decision and should not be taken lightly or without a proper review of risk and risk management.

1220					I think it foolish to remove ourselves from the CPP simply so a Government holding party can flip off the federal government. It is childish and a diservice to the people of Alberta.
1221	Nowhere have I been asked if I want to have an Alberta Pension Plan. I DO NOT WANT AN ALBERTA PENSION PLAN. IF THE UCP government tries to create an APP, I will permanently move out of Alberta and take my CPP with me. I have lived in Alberta my whole life.	DO NOT CREATE AN ALBERTA PENSION PLAN!	DO NOT CREATE AN APP OR I WILL MOVE OUT OF THE PROVINCE	DO NOT CREATE AN APP!	ABSOLUTELY DO NOT DO CREATE AN ALBERTA PENSION PLAN. AIMCo doesnâ€™t know how to invest money and no one except the ignorant will fall for this grab of money from the CPP. Iâ€™ll be moving, if this is done!
1222	Not using the funds to fund any other Alberta projects. My biggest fear is that the money will be used to fund some other Alberta project and the APP will lose money and wonâ€™t be able to fund the pensions	Anyone but the private sector like the UCP war room	Do not engage the private sector. They just pay the executives large salaries and the fund may be mismanaged	To much corruption when investing in Alberta	I feel like us Albertans are being bullied into an APP. I am not sure why we want to go ahead with this and I really do not believe the numbers that Danielle Smith has stated. I am finding it very difficult to trust the current Administration. They politicians have been caught in lies and they donâ€™t think this is a problem and apparently it isnâ€™t. So the lies will continue and Albertans will suck it up.
1223	I completely disagree that the APP would be more beneficial to Albertans than CPP. We should maintain the CPP.	Do not create APP. Do NOT engage the private sector for ANY social service.	Do not create APP. Do NOT engage the private sector for ANY social service.	Do not create APP	Do not create APP. Do NOT engage the private sector for ANY social service. It is pretty clear from the wording the survey that the intention is to create an APP that is managed by the private section. This will only serve to help the wealthy and hurt the average Albertan. To continue with the creation of the APP would be anti-Albertan and inhumane decision. It is very clear when we look south of our nation's border that private sector management will only serve to create a small extremely wealthy upper class while pushing everyone else into a hopeless financial crisis where our wellbeing will be further tied to employment.

1225	These questions are phrased to collect data and opinions in support of an APP. I am NOT in support of this bonehead maneuver. Keep your hands off of my money. I rather that the CPP stay with a trusted government, not a right wing fringe interest group, such as Danielle Smith and the TBA. AIMCO has poor returns on risky investments and to take Albertan's CPP and with the intention to invest it poorly is a bad decision. Also the UCP said that this would be something that would be pursuing, but as usual Danielle says whatever to get elected. To Be Clear I want my CPP to stay with the federal government. 1378	I support building up security and the size of the fund, while taking time before increasing benefits as they are paid for a long time. Who actually gets to decide what the benefit levels are? If it is government, this could be used to buy votes and quickly become unsustainable. There should be a good governance structure of employers and employees who actually contribute premiums.		Investments should follow existing CPPIB protocols, not the Quebec model where invested disproportionately in the local economy
1379		Federally regulated body to maintain parity with CPP			I believe there is little to gain from withdrawing from CPP, and if we want to create a better Alberta we should be focused on the natural resources we have (and stop dragging our feet on green energy!) boosting the economy for creating good, future proof jobs (and getting away from oil and gas) could make us a world leader which would only improve everyoneâ€™s livelihood.
1380	It shouldn't consider anything because we shouldn't leave CPP.			Do not leave the CPP.	Do not leave the CPP. Alberta has demonstrated it cannot manage financial assets well. AIMCO was a disaster and you should keep your hands off my pension.

1384	What an incredibly biased survey. Try asking whether people are in support of this completely absurd "œplan". Stop embarrassing us.	Better yet - just leave CPP alone!		No one wants this	This is an immensely unpopular idea and you clearly know that as you™ve not asked a single question about whether people support it. Stop wasting tax dollars
1386	I absolutely do not support the Alberta Pension Plan. We should remain on the CPP to ensure we have a great pension for retirement. The CPP is world class and works, there is no reason for an Alberta pension plan, and it is a sever oversight to push forward with one	We should remain with the CPP, we do not need a Alberta Pension Plan, and I do not support it.	I do not support an Alberta pension plan, we do not need one. We should remain with the CPP	I do not support an Alberta pension plan.	We absolutely do not need an Alberta Pension Plan. We need to stay with the CPP. It is tried and true and an excellent retirement plan. An APP is foolish and will leave Alberta at a disadvantage. People will not want to come to Alberta and others will leave. I do not support an Alberta pension plan.
1387	Establishing a forced change to an alternative pension plan as the largest generation retires sounds like an expensive way to create economic instability for those who can least afford it (retirees with no way to generate additional income)	Unsure, but historical provincial engagement of the private sector has seen Albertans lose time and time again			This is a bad idea. The CPP is more than adequate, Albertans don't have anything significant to gain by implementing a provincial program, but have a lot to lose.
1389					I think alberta is the heart of canada and we should be out on our own as the country stands. We need to care of ourselves in this province, because the federal government does not. 1393	You should not establish the Alberta Pension Plan, no one wants it. We want to stay with CPP.	Definitely not the UCP, the money would just disappear like Kenney's $1B pipeline	Don't pretend you want to diversify the economy, if you did you wouldn't be freezing sustainable energy initiatives	The Alberta Pension Plan is a terrible idea.	If our CPP contributions are moved into an Alberta Pension Plan, I am confident that the money will disappear and I will not get a pension. Don't. Do. It.
1394	Again, in question #8 you present the options that you want to use to argue for APP. This is not right and the results you get are skewed and inappropriate as to what the average Albertan (Canadian) wants. This survey is useless for the most part and only supports the crazy option of APP.	Again, the options are limited. This is NOT a survey. It is a political statement for the UCP	We should not create an APP. Notice you never give the respondent the choice of saying the APP is foolish and risky to the point of doing away with all pensions in the future.	Again, you assume that I want the APP to occur.	Well, you are not interested in what Albertans' (Canadians) think. This is just a political 'bull....' that the UCP has put together for political purposes. It serves no purpose and the assumptions that are made in the report are bogus, wrong and politically charged. We do well with the CPP and there is no reason why we need to take on a financially deficit act and loose the pensions for existing people as well as for the next generation. The UCP (PC) ran the oil industry for the past 50 years and look where that got us--$40B in debt and a lot of wealthy politicians and oil barons.

Keep CPP, you morons are gambling away my retirement	KEEP EXISTING CPP	Keep CPP as it is	The Alberta Pension Plan (APP) proposal is a shortsighted and economically inefficient idea that should be rejected in favor of staying with the Canada Pension Plan (CPP). Establishing a separate pension plan for Alberta would entail significant upfront costs, creating unnecessary administrative redundancies. This would burden taxpayers and divert resources that could be better utilized elsewhere. Furthermore, leaving the CPP would result in reduced investment returns for Albertans. The CPP's size and diversified investment portfolio enable it to achieve economies of scale and generate higher returns. In contrast, the APP would be a smaller pension plan, likely leading to diminished investment performance and, ultimately, lower retirement income for Albertans. Additionally, the APP threatens the principles of interprovincial cooperation, undermining the very essence of Canada's social safety net. Staying with the CPP ensures a collective approach to pension security, allowing all provinces to benefit from shared resources and expertise. The APP's isolationist stance is detrimental to Alberta's long-term financial well-being and should be soundly rejected in favor of the CPP.

1556	Stay away from oil and gas.	Stay in the CPP	Stay in the CPP		Stay in the CPP. This is a horrible idea to attempt to pull out. The LifeWorks report is flawed and does not comprehend the complexities of peoplesâ€™ movement across provinces. I have no faith in this governmentâ€™s ability to ethically or responsibly manage such a fund. Alberta should stay in the CPP.

1568	They MUST be completely, entirely, 110% independent from political control. I do not want ANY future Premier anywhere NEAR my pension fund, hell I wouldnâ€™t even want KLEIN near my pension!!!!	N/A	N/A		As a young Albertan, my views on this might be a bit tilted, but the SAVINGS that seem possible while INCREASING benefits at the same time seems like a no-brainer. Thumbs up from this 18 year old!
1569	Invest money into long term care beds, new hospitals and education.				This doesnt seem like a good idea and seems like a way to weasel toward seperation from Canada. I dont trust the provincial goverment to do a good job managing these funds or to use the extra funds wisely to invest back into healthcare, long term care or education. If Alberta moves to this I'll strongly consider moving back to my home province because I dont like the idea of getting my pension messed up if I decide to retire to another part of Canada.
1570	How about you donâ€™t withdraw from the the Canadian pension plan.	Donâ€™t withdraw Alberta from the Canadian Pension Plan	For the love of god please do not Withdraw Alberta from the Canadian Pension Plan!	Do not withdraw from the Canadian Pension Plan. 1578	I donâ€™t trust the UCP to manage the fund. They will use it to support oil and gas and Albertans will be the losers - especially in a world where renewables are the way of the future.	The UCP should never be trusted to manage anything. We certainly know how well AIMCO has done in managing funds. KEEP THE CPP AS IT IS!!!	Leave the CPP alone please!	What is important to me is keeping the CPP as is.	$1.7 billion in accounting errors, $1.3 billion failed pipeline gamble, $2.1 billion crude-by-rail, DynaLife, AIMCo's failed trading strategy, e-coli debacle, the 80 million Tylenol fiasco!!! Let's face it UCP is a disaster at managing anything. Leave the CPP alone or Albertans will be the ones paying for this potential disaster. HANDS OFF OUR CPP!!!!

People in hospitals or longer-term care facility, they stay up to help patients and pay is not enough to catch up with the high inflation rate. Also, it should be invested in child care and sports or music programs for elementary school students. They are out future. If we invested in them for years, in my opinion, they will be less likely to have mental or substance use disorder.				Alberta is an affordable city because of the low cost of housing compared to other cities, but if the government of Alberta can set aside a pension plan, it would gradually solve the problems that plague Alberta as a whole, and it would bring about quantitative and qualitative growth in Alberta. 1649	I donâ€™t want AB to leave the CPP! Donâ€™t do it in the first place -itâ€™s a bad idea!	Donâ€™t do it in tbe first place!		Creating an Alberta Pension Plan would be a colossal waste of money and effort. We have national plan which is the envy of the world. Albertans should be grateful if they contribute â€œmore than their shareâ€ - it means we earn more money and are younger than in other provinces. However, that may not always be the case! And then it will likely be impossible to rejoin. The arguments for opting out of the CPP are based on short-sighted greed and political grandstanding. As a senior who is a Canadian first, I find it offensive and worrisome. 1662	The APP should NOT be established. Abandoning the CPP in favor of the APP would not only disrupt the retirement plans of many Albertans but also create unnecessary administrative complexities and costs. The Alberta Government and Premier Smith are not working in favour of their residents. Stay away from our pensions.	Do not switch it!	Do NOT take our CPP away!	The decision to change is wreckless	The CPP is a cornerstone of retirement security for Canadians, offering a reliable and stable source of income for retirees across the nation. The idea of replacing it with a provincial plan not only jeopardizes the retirement plans of countless Albertans but also raises questions about the economic feasibility and sustainability of such a move. I implore you to carefully consider the consequences of this proposed transition and to engage in a comprehensive dialogue with Albertans to ensure their voices are heard on this crucial matter.

This is corruption at the highest levels for Alberta. No doubt you will move funds into a private equity firm who will syphon off funds through fees and commissions until theres nothing left for the Albertans who have contributed their whole lives. Just stop with this garbage and address the real issues Albertans are facing, like corporate gouging and lack of affordable housing.
1668	IF this were to happen, ALL new assets should be used to improve the function of the pension plan for all who use it. I am EXTREMELY distrustful of the UCP's ability to keep all the public in mind when making decisions. I believe it more likely that they would hand new assets over to private oil affiliated organizations that they have ties to under the false guise of helping the public.	Biased political party members of the UCP and the private organizations they have ties to should have NOTHING to do with the pension plan.	Again, little to no UCP involvement and NO private sector involvement.	NO political bias	I firmly believe that exiting the CPP is a bad idea. It's another step towards the UCP's isolationist and separatist ideals. Alberta is part of Canada and as a society/country it is absurd to think that the UCP is correct in the belief that Alberta deserves more than other provinces. I do not believe that stepping out of the CPP would bet is more either as the UCP will definitely funnel that money to their allies and private businesses they have ties with.
1669	Must not have any oil and gas industry exposure, including service and midstream. The financial well being of Albertans is already too tied to that industry. 1679	Make sure that any plan benefits track future inflation rates accurately.				Some people will get their hair on fire over this proposal. Media and the opposition will try to scare Albertans with all sorts of speculation as to the motive. The panel and UCP members must stay focused on the facts and the economic benefits and not dragged into a debate on anything but the future benefit to young Albertans. Honestly, if you are over 65 now the net benefit will be negligible. However if you are in your 20s to 50s I see a tremendous opportunity to create an APP.

This misleading survey is NOT it. The most important aim of an APP is to maximize returns for its participants -it is completely inappropriate to have a goal of investing in Albertan industries if these are not necessariky going to maximize stable returns

1698					I don't think it is wise to move away from CPP when it is already considered among the most stable retirement plan in the world. In the long run, I feel Alberta will place herself in more troubles by transitioning, and end up losing more than the stated benefits in the report.
1699	This is a horrible idea...i do not support it it any way. Your survey is ridiculous and does no ask Albertans what they would like.				Again i do NOT support an AB Pension plan. I do not trust the UCP government to manage my grocery order let alone my retirement fund

1704	These assets should be used and invested solely for the alberta pension plan and not to be dipped into by any government agency or used for anything other than the alberta pension plan recipients.	Private sector rating choice is 1. Your system would not allow that choice for some reason. We shouldn't be forced to make a choice of a 2 or 3 when we feel the choices should be ranked the same. The system should not be rigged in that fashion.	Again you are rigging the choices. Shifting is a 1 as is engaging the private sector. You are merely creating more high paying jobs with the costs coming out of the pension plan.		Simple, don't do it. My contract was with the federal government not the alberta government. I would like it to stay that way. I don't trust that I will receive as much as I presently do and I certainly believe that I will not receive more from your plan. I also don't believe you will increae pension payments to properly account for cost of living increases. You are probably considering how to reduce payments if cost of living decreases.
1705	Removing their heads from their assess and not using bullshit formulae based on prospective estimates from start of CPP to divine numbers. Use actual CPP value, you fucking morons. 1712	It should absolutely not be established. Alberta has a terrible record of managing investment. CPP has worked well. Leave it alone.			Not in favour	This is nothing more than Smith wanting to have another inconsequential squabble with the Federal government. Just another example of government wasting tax payers money on another "pipe" dream.

1727					Cpp contribution rates keep increasing every year which means more off my cheque. I'm in favour of Alberta's app as long as rates are low

1729	The projected size of the assets defies logic. There's no way Alberta would be due such an amount. Given the GoA's history with the Alberta workers' pensions and AIMCo, you have proven you cannot be trusted with our pensions.	Keep our pensions with the CPP	Keep our pensions with the CPP	Keep our pensions with the CPP	This is my pension. MY SAVINGS FOR MY RETIREMENT No one asked you to steal and yes, you are stealing it. The UCP refused to talk about this leading up to the election because they knew that many Albertans did not want our pensions taken out of the CPP. The CPP is a secure, fund independent of government. How dare you!!!
1730	It shouldn't be established, it's a massive waste of funds.	Stay in the CPP	Stay in the CPP	Keep my pension in the CPP.	It shouldn't happen, the CPP is an excellent pension plan.

1742	I am totally opposed to an APP. I will likely leave Alberta if an APP is implemented, as will many younger and professional people.	Don't create an APP - leave CPP as is.	Don't create an APP	Hands off my pension!!!	I am completely opposed to this. I don't want my pension funds used to prop up a sunset industry for political purposes. I don't trust AIMCo to manage it given their horrible track record. I will work to recall UCP MLAs if this is implemented. Hands off my pension!!!

1744	Change question 8 to read, Maintain current benefit and maintain the a payment that would keep the fund stable. Stop trying to get a don't know answer. Behave!	Use a third party investment manager group with oversite that does not have individual power to make changes unless the firm agrees or better if and only if the change would increase the returns rather than incease the firms take first!!!	The funds should be under a third party and the APP investment Board	I am happy with ATB returns. Why not use the ATB?	I believe a combination of third party (ATB) and the Alberta governments investment people would be a good vehicle for this important citizen investment.
1745					Implement this ASAP! Tired of Federal mismanagement

1748	This is a terrible Idea, the CPP is world-renowned for its return on investment. This would make me never vote UCP again.	Besides CPP every other option is 1 for me	Besides option 1 keeping it with CPP every other option is 1 for me	The current system works great. Make 0 changes.	This is one of the worst financial decisions I have ever heard. It would be like having Warren Buffet in charge of your investments and deciding to stop using him and go with an unproven new asset manager. The CPP has performed much better the Aimco over the last 10 years.
1749	That the CPP is well managed, and I donâ€™t trust this government to manage an APP				No one wants this and itâ€™s a giant waste of tax payer money to even look into this. If public approval is already low why is waste everyoneâ€™s time to come to the same conclusion you already know.

1752					Yeah, I'm strongly opposed to having an Alberta Pension Plan. I am a Canadian first and this is just a bad idea for the country. I also do not trust the UCP with my money--bad bets on Keystone and that odious Trump being re-elected, the money wasted on the 'war room' so worry what misuse of pension funds will happen. And I'm concerned that this will leave me stuck in Alberta because of how it will rob the rest of the country of CPP funds. So did not fill out much of the survey since the first question should have been whether we are in favour or not of an Alberta pension. I think this is one of the UCPs stupidest ideas, and there have been a lot of stupid ones. Don't do it!

Don't leave cpp.	Do not leave cpp	Do not leave cpp.	Do not leave cpp. It's already one of the best in the world. You can't logically provide higher benefits while taking less. You don't account for decreasing birth rates, when the numbers are clearly in decline, meaning those who will age out in 20+ years will lose benefits because no one is putting enough in. It's a terrible idea, with a biased research group behind it.

1817	Ugh. why is this Panel even being funded? How about we use the money being spent on this faux 'problem' of Alberta not getting it's fair share and put it towards funding education and healthcare? What good is an Albertan pension when those systems are crumbling.				WHY is this what our government is focusing on? This is a straw dog. There's nothing wrong with the CPP - it's one of the most stable, well managed pension plans in the world. Please do not assume that anyone other than a few wannabe Separatists here want this. Seniors in my life are terrified that they will lose their CPP now. Also, as there are fewer and fewer working age Canadians and more and more baby boomers, including in Alberta, how on earth would this province be able to provide comparable benefits to the CPP? There are fewer contributors to the plan than there will be people withdrawing from it. This is a waste of time and money when Alberta is facing SERIOUS crises - opioid overdoses, unaffordable housing, sky high electricity rates, collapse of public services, and a reluctance to acknowledge that Oil&Gas will NOT be the economic driver of Alberta's future. Leaving a stable pension plan to create 'our own' is NOT a priority.

Do not take our money away from us, Premier Smith.	keep the CPP, do not leave the CPP	keep the CPP, do not leave the CPP	keep the CPP	problematic,” he said, noting it would have worked before changes were made to the CPP in 1997. “If you start with $334 billion, not a reasonable starting position, then it tilts the scales towards concluding an Alberta pension plan is a no-brainer, when it is not,” he said. Tombe said while Alberta’s younger population might garner a lower contribution rate, there would be trade-offs. “A separate Alberta plan would also be more exposed to demographic and economic risks,” he said, adding that if Alberta took more than half of CPP’s assets, contribution rates elsewhere would need to increase to make up for it. “That Lifeworks report hinges on a transfer amount that appears to be impossible,” Leduc told Postmedia in an interview, adding that the estimate is not “grounded in the legislation.” Leduc noted that the income from CPP’s investment wouldn’t exist if it wasn’t for its ability to pool on a national scale. The Canadian Federation of Independent Business (CFIB) also weighed in Thursday after the report’s release, warning that while some small businesses may welcome the possibility of lower premiums, there are risks for Alberta in creating its own plan. “There are major implications for small businesses across Canada with the prospect of higher premiums to make up the loss of Alberta’s absence,” it said on social media.

An arms length independent administrator	An arms length independent administrator, like the CPP	Zero influence by government	I don't trust the government of Alberta to manage the funds in an APP, considering how the pension funds for teachers were handled. 1945	The QPP only worked because they started it at the beginning. Your calculations are from the 1990s and are grossly overestimated. There is no way 7 provinces will agree and if they do Ab will never get the amounts you are saying. Do not touch my pension plan.	Do not touch my pension	Do not touch my pension.	It should not invest in oil and gas.	It is the worse idea out of this government since trying to create a Provincial police force.

1950	The panel should disband because the LifeWorks report is miscalculated. There is no way Alberta is owed 50% of the CCP fund. The proposed APP would be mismanaged by the current provincial government.	Do not leave the CCP. The current provincial government would mismanage the fund.	Do not leave the CCP.	Itâ€™s exhausting having to deal with the incompetence of the AB UCP government and their terrible ideas. The LifeWorks report is a joke. I donâ€™t trust this government with the tax dollars they currently collect, let alone a portion of the CCP fund, to which a lot of us constituents are depending on when we retire. This government has proven that they only care about themselves and their friends getting farther a head while the rest of us struggle to keep up with life. This idea is so ignorant and clearly just another thing to fight the federal government for, when they should be working together to give Albertans a better life.
1951					Thank you so much for this report and the work you have done. I am a baby boomer but I am 100% in favour of this move. People don't trust the Fed government for very good reason. 1952	The CPP deductions maximizes at $64,000 in income, so the comment about Albertans contributing more than other provinces is not correct. Also the population of a province can change depending on what jobs are available. I don't know where the $5 Billion comes from. 2007	My largest concern would be the set up and maintenance costs especially when the proposed range is $100M to $1,000M. I would not be in favour of having this service bid out to a for-profit company to suck all this money up in typical capitalist fashion. If the CCP money was to be moved the whole program should benefit ALL Albertans, not just those retiring the next five to ten years. The biggest concern when I graduated was that there would not be enough money in the CPP for Gen X when we retired, never mind any future generations. The move would be a considerable up front loss, so those costs would have to be kept as reasonable as possible and focus on protecting the public interest as a whole.	Compare the costs of existing to new over the next 20 years and seen which would cost less.	Compare costs of what is going to cost less long term and be a balanced perspective. A board stacked with one flavour of politics is not going to represent all Albertans.	Up front set up fees	Research shows that a person with a professional job & average understanding of investments & business can predict markets as well as 'investment-professionals' so there is no benefit to paying independents from GOA to administer. I am not in favour of hiring external for-profit companies to administer the fund. There is no need to reinvent the wheel for the sake of a news session to claim another 'made in Alberta solution'. Do something that is fiscally responsible and is fair to the largest majority of Albertans and future generations, not just payouts for retirees in the next 5-10 years. Think long-term and strategically!

The CPPIB has also been recognized for its strong investment performance.In 2021, the CPPIB generated a return of 14.2%,which was the highest return among all large pension funds in Canada.	conflicts of interest, lack of diversification	I believe that there should be no change to the current system of pension management in Alberta.The Canada Pension Plan Investment Board is a well-established and respected investment manager with a proven track record.It is also independent from government influence, which is important for ensuring that the investments are made in the best interests of the plan's beneficiaries. Ido not believe that an Alberta Pension Plan would be in the best interests of Albertans.It would be more expensive to administer than the CPPIB, and it would be more likely to be subject to political interference.It would also be less diversified than the CPPIB, which could increase the risk of loss. It is not in the long term interest of Albertaâ€™s, or Canadians more broadly, to create a APP. It is also morally wrong to take the contributions that Albertaâ€™s made to CPP and divert them to a new fund. This is not what we contributed to.

2057	The Panel needs to address the extreme variation in estimates. Example 'We estimate that the setup costs for non-investment related activities will be between $100 million and $1,000 million'. $100,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 is an unbelievably large range and doesn't give Albertans a proper vision of what they'll be paying for. Not AIMCO or private			A few things: 1) The Panel MUST release long term prospects and projections for this plan and the government must disclose who would be managing the APP. 2076	As I stated before I do not want an Alberta Pension Plan. I have paid into CPP for almost 40 years I do not believe there is a y benefit to having a separate plan. How will you support a continually growing senior group with only Albertans paying into the program! Do the math! There are more Canadians currently supporting CPP.	None of the above quite frankly!	Keep CPP period.		I do not see the benefit in an Alberta Pension Plan. I think there should be an option to continue with CPP. I had paid into the plan for 39 years and am now able to benefit from my and my employer's contributions to the plan. I should be able to continue to receive this benefit. I am a Canadian first and foremost. I should be entitled to the same benefits as other Canadians. I do not trust the stability of an Alberta plan. The number of people working in Alberta could not possibly be sufficient to sustain this pension at its current capacity. I am appalled that this proposal is even being considered, given how it disappeared during election time. Hands off my CPP!!

I’ve watch them & know the danger pensioners are in if she gets ahold of Health Care $ CPP.

2140	This plan is ridiculous and completely ignores the fact that people move around Canada regularly. I’m completely opposed to this plan. There is no way Alberta will get as much money out of CPP to start as the report states. And CPP isn’t based on what province people live in, it’s based on the individual.	Absolutely not private. Our pension shouldn’t line corporate pockets.	Don’t put all our eggs in one basket - way too reliant on oil and gas for provincial revenues, no need to double down with our pensions.	Not oil and gas	I think this is a terrible idea. I do not trust the government of Alberta to manage my pension in a stable or rational way. Alberta has a history of wasting oil boom money and not planning ahead - that is not how I want my pension managed. The AB Government should not be able to create laws that would have potential to negatively impact the benefits of pensioners. 2192	Absolutely nothing. This is a waste of taxpayer dollars. There are so many other issues that require immediate attention and money. To establish an alberta pension plan is a none started and an abysmal waste of time and resources that could be put toward homelessness or student housing. I have been an Albertan my entire life and will move away if this is implemented			This survey is useless	Again please axe this idea and spend the resources on things that are really broken like housing and healthcare and education. This is an abysmal waste of resources and is a distraction from things that really matter to people. I have paid into the CPP all my working life and it has provided me with some comfort to know that it is there. My parents had a good experience with it. Take the billions of dollars this will cost and put it towards issues that are front and centre and need attention now. To be perfectly blunt this is stupid and your report and survey are biased.
2193	Make sure the pension funds are managed independently . No WEF or UN Global extremists allowed !	Can't think of another option			How do we limit benefits for new Albertans or ones that have moved from other parts of Canada ?

2195					Yes, keep your hands off my CPP. I donâ€™t want a Alberta Pension Plan
2196	Put in strict laws to protect the fund from future greedy politicians. This money belongs to Albertans and it should go to supporting those that earned it, and those that need it. Not to those that want to see the fund emptied into their own coffers. Firewall the fund.	Do not engage the private sector.	Keep the public sector out of it.		This is a terrible idea. It would be a good idea if we didnâ€™t continually watch the private sector take the Alberta Advantage away from us. Iâ€™m for it if there was a way to 1) enact laws that require the fund be managed with absolute integrity, and 2) the funds were used to actually support Albertans that need it. Seniors, those on AISH, and the people that support them are all so tired of being stretched to the breaking point. I have a young family, and my mother had to move in with me because her CPP and benefits donâ€™t even cover rent. Iâ€™m not in a position to be her caregiver while taking care of my kids and while working a full-time job. Focus your time on essential and important issues that you ignore while being distracted with a pension issue that doesnâ€™t even exist.
2315	Investment in Albertan companies whenever possible.	Alberta MUST maintain the plan. Not cpp. Not private.	AB Gov must maintain control.		It must be maintained by an unwaveringly trustworthy board. No other provinces, gov's, or private companies. Security of our funds must be job ONE.

2317	Alberta Blue Cross payments for seniors should be eliminated.				It's time that Alberta invests in Alberta instead of sending all our money to the federal government who doesn't care about Alberta.

2321	My biggest concern is that the government will go back on its word and use the profits or extra income for other areas within the budget instead of using EVERYTHING to creating a better APP and maintaining it.				Most of my questions have been answered in the FAQ. However, admittedly, I just donâ€™t know if I can trust the government to stick to its word. A big change like this makes me worry that as a senior, I will lose some of my benefits or that they will be smaller Payments each month and I just canâ€™t afford that. Governments have a record of saying one thing and then finding an excuse to do another and that is my biggest concern.

2344	Keep in mind that Alberta’s economy is cyclical. At some point in the next 50 years, the resources we produce will become irrelevant and the high income jobs that currently support our over contributions in the CPP will disappear and and the amount of money coming into an APP will be way lower.
2345	Cost of living is becoming so high, an increase in benefits is long overdue				Im all for it. The less we have Ottawa involved the better

I will not be in support of a separate pension plan, I want to remain as part of CPP for my pension. If Alberta creates its own separate pension plan I will have no other alternative than to move out of Alberta to another province so that I will not be personally affected by this extremely poor decision. I am in favour of remaining with CPP!

Their should be strict governance of management just as the rules are in place for the benefit payments.			It needs to be a balanced, excellent management.	It is a valued plan that exists for Canadians to help retirement costs. Any plan to touch this needs to be well thought out and executed.

2393	I find this survey incredibly manipulative. This is how our government engages Albertans? You should be ashamed. I do not agree with the basic facts of your 'independent' report and neither does Trevor Tombe (trusted U of A economist) or Michel Leduc (director for CPP investments). I have answered 'don't know' to leading questions that I refuse to answer because I reject your premise.	Please forget the geniuses at AIMCO. 2465	It should be used to help our younger generation make a living. Seniors do need help also but it would be short term as Alberta has an aging senior population.				I think it is time for Alberta to have its own investment package. It is time to start pulling away from the Federal government as they donâ€™t have Albertaâ€™s interests in mind. I will certainly vote to have our own, but I pray our current government stay in power as the NFP will do something to screw it up.

The UCP needs to keep their hands off of it			As I have stated, do not want an Alberta Pension Plan and there better be a referendum, no trust in the UCP

Combination of public & private with governance Board of Directors.			I doubt this will ever happen as long as we have a Libera/NDP "coalition" or leftist federal government. The CPP is a well trusted investment corporation. The province of Alberta has shown us what a failure it is at managing investments with the AIMCO debacle. As I consider myself a Canadian first and an Albertan second, I should have the right to decide for myself, no matter what a referendum of a so called majority decides. This is not a majority decision. No one can speak over my rights to continue receiving my CPP, etc. NOT a politician who has been voted in by a slender majority and may be out in the next election. I am so angry with this whole referendum over MY existing benefits that I will, for the first time in 48 years, vote NDP. Soâ€™ what are my rights here, as a Canadian citizen who happens to live in Alberta??				Address the concerns held by existing pensioners who are receiving CPP, OAS, etc about what your plans are. 2529	Please take into account Alberta residents who pay into Alberta and Canada income tax, but reside outside of Canada, whether temporarily or long term. These Albertans may be living or traveling for various reasons, but are still financially tied to Alberta and citizens. For example, my family is currently globe schooling our homeschooled child, but we still pay Income tax, EI, and CPP.	An APP Administrator needs to be regulated and salary capped, not a top heavy, paid too well, large group of staff.	The investment board must be regulated and salary capped. This could include a hybrid model or partnership with other provincial plans, depending on specific needs and circumstances.	Risk & return, cost efficiency, expertise.	Creating an Alberta Pension Plan is a significant decision that will impact the future financial security of Albertans. It's crucial to ensure that the plan is designed and managed in a way that aligns with the interests of its beneficiaries, is cost-effective, and is sustainable over the long term. The Panel should consider a wide range of factors, including risk and return trade-offs, cost efficiency, expertise requirements, regulatory environment, and alignment with beneficiaries' interests. It's also important to ensure transparency and accountability in the plan's management. Ultimately, the goal should be to provide a secure and reliable source of retirement income for Albertans.

2657	This survey is very biased to an œin favourœ of an APP. I do not support this switch. I 100% agree with the CPP only.		Keep our money with the CPP.		I am not in favour of an alberta pension plan.
2658	This plan is ridiculous - I am not in favour of this idea remotely. This is NOTHING the general public asked for - we are the people who have paid CPP for decades and want nothing to do with a risky change at this late stage of the game. Stop this nonsense...stop wasting energy and time and put efforts into dealing with current matters in the province. I am disgusted how and when this has materialized.	This is absolutely a skewed and ridiculous survey. I am not in favour of this and your options do not appeal. Just stop this now.	Your 'investments' have been a failure to date. I don't trust this - and find this survey ridiculous and biased.

2668	The panel should not consider the use of these assets. The the province should leave the CPP con tribulations within the current Canada pension plan. It would be unfair to our fellow Canadians to remove any amount of pension from that the CPP is well managed provides returns and security for all Canadians. I am a Canadian first, as well as a proud Albertan. Again, no funds should be removed from the CPP. I want my CPP to remain within the Canada pension plan.

2696	Leave my pension where it is as CPP.			Leave my pension as part of the CPP	I disagree with having an APP. Wondering why now if the questions ask about the cost to change from CPP to APP
2698	The current report does not convince me that new assets would be realized by leasing the CPP, and reports commissioned by previous conservative governments have repeatedly concluded essentially that the devil is in the details - leaving may seem like a good idea at first glance, but in reality Albertans would see losses in the short and long term, not gains.	Unfortunately I cannot trust this government to choose an ethical administrator who would prioritize the needs of the public, similar to if the private sector took over. Public retirement money does not belong in the hands of an entity that would seek profit margins.	Donâ€™t separate from the CPP	Not wasting money starting an APP from scratch	The CPP is the best performing national pension plan in the world. To think that our landlocked province with a fraction of the population/pool of CPP could stand a chance to come close to those returns is delusional. Brexit looked good on paper but turned into an irreversible, unmitigated disaster very quickly. If you feel bound by any duty to your constituents at all, hold a new election over it. Thereâ€™s a reason the UCP didnâ€™t talk about pensions and made their messaging sound like our CPP was safe until after the election. A majority of Albertans do not want to switch. Risking the livelihood of our seniors and all working adults in order to force our money into O&G would be unconscionable, and you can expect hard pushback at every step of the way.
2699	First, this was a very poorly designed survey. Second, the questions in here are wholly dependent on the size of the asset transfer. Alberta does not get to set that. That is in the hands of the Minister of Finance. The calculation done by Lifeworks shows a complete lack of understanding of section 113, the history of the plan, and basic math knowledge. There is nothing in the Lifeworks that supports the questions being asked here.	Piss poor question	Again very poor survey design		Indeed. This is a very poorly designed survey that will only produce data that supports the withdrawal. The survey doesnâ€™t ask anything about whether a respondent supports the withdrawal. It only asks questions related to withdrawing based on an incredibly flawed report. Whomever designed this survey and approved it wants the conclusion to be withdrawal.

2708	Survey is flawed. I DO NOT want an Alberta Pension Plan			Zero political influence can be permitted	It is a mistake. Albertans do not want this. My family will be forced to leave the province if our retirement savings are at risk.
2709	Use pragmatic investing to grow the fund as much as possible.				I think this is a fantastic idea and that the Alberta government will need to educate Albertans on the benefits so that the predictably negative spin created by mainstream media does not obfuscate the real pros and cons of creating such a plan.
2710					This is a very important initiative and needs to happen ASAP
2712	There should be a vote for Albertans to decide if there should even be an Alberta Pension Plan. This is not something that government official should be deciding on their own. The people should have a day where their money goes.			Alberta needs to vote in this!	The money earned by the people should only go to where the people want it to go. The government has a history of taking the people's money (pensions) and not getting as good of a return on it than had they just left it alone. Private companies are usually friends with the current gov. and giving big contracts to them is very dishonest. Please let Albertans have a day and vote on this matter.

2724	The idea that we will receive over 50% of the CPP assets is ludicrous. Why would any other province or the federal government agree to this. The assumption that we will have savings resulting from this is far from a guarantee and we take on considerable risk.	We should not create an Alberta pension plan	We should not create an Alberta pension plan	The CPP offers all of this. Why change?	Any report that claims Alberta can get over 50% of the current CPP is obviously flawed. It is impossible to believe any conclusions coming out of it. I hoped this survey might ask whether I wanted an Alberta Pension Plan. The answer to that is no. Keep your hands off my pension.
2726	Have indexed like the Alberta Public Pensions				Letâ€™s start
2727	The panel shouldn't be considering anything as this '5 billion in savings' is not confirmed and cannot be considered assets. I do not believe the report and Albertans deserve a secondary report with legitimate confirmation of what Alberta would actually take if we left the CPP. Having a second report is a must before a referendum asking Albertans if they want to even begin the process.	I do not want an Alberta Pension Plan. I do not believe the report and want confirmation with a secondary report.	I do not want an Alberta Pension Plan. I do not believe the report and want confirmation with a second report	NO ALBERTA PENSION PLAN.	The only thoughts is NO TO ALBERTA PENSION PLAN, NO TO LEAVING CPP. I do not want an Alberta Pension Plan. I do not believe or trust the report findings and want a secondary report and ABâ€™s concerns legitimately and fully addressed before even having a referendum. The ONLY question on a survey or Alberta referendum is: Should Alberta start the long process of leaving the CPP??
2729		do not know			I think it is very important for Alberta to run their own Pension Plan. The sooner, the better. I'm in my early 80's so maybe will not benefit as much as a younger working generation. Important for workers to maximize their contributions into larger pension payments. Good Luck!

2793	While i disagree with the idea of moving away from CPP. Should the APP be created, decreasing risk by maintaining the same monthly contributions and increasing the size of the fund should be the initial priority.	Other public fund manager that isnt CPP	Asset management under another public fund (not CPP)		Must minimize risk by keeping a diverse portfolio. Should not heavily invest in Alberta as it increases risk. Should be independent from the Alberta government as it could be used as a political tool. My preference is that Alberta stays with CPP.
2794	Nothing, I don't want an APP.		keep it with the CPP	I don't trust the current government.	I don't want an APP to be established. the Alberta Teachers pension results has given me very little trust and Lifeworks thinks we deserve %50 of the CPP? Ridiculous.

2806	Very trusting UCP will make wise decisions. Anything Alberta can do without Ottawa is a plus!
2807	I am strongly against moving to an Alberta pension plan. This is the absolute worst decision that our government could possibly make. If for some unknown reason, this actually goes ahead, I think every Albertan should be asked on their taxes if they wish to remain in the CPP or if they want to move to the Alberta plan, and that is their choice, there should be no pressure or requirement to move to an Alberta only plan again my desire is to stay in the current CPP plan. In fact, I would look at moving to make sure this happens.	The federal government	Do not create an Alberta pension plan	I do not want an Alberta pension plan.	Please do not proceed with an Alberta pension plan. This is one of the worst ideas the conservative government has ever had. I am absolutely scared that our current government would lose all my money, and I would have nothing left for retirement, or they would give employers an opt out, and I would get no contributions from my employer. Do not proceed with this

It completely ignores all risks and starts with a ridiculously false assumption about the size of the fund that would come to Alberta. It then tries to bribe the uniformed and greedy into thinking they'll get 'free' money by switching. The whole process should be cancelled.			An APP is ridiculous	Cancel this undertaking. It only hurts Albertans. If you have any integrity, you'll greatly question the premise on which the whole process was built and resign or recommend against an APP.

2911		You can't beat the stability and returns of CPP			This idea is a disaster. You're playing with the peoples future. CPP is one of the best performing, stable pension funds in the world. QPP doesn't perform as well. APP definitely won't. Only corrupt politicians want this.

Nothing this government has accomplished gives me any confidence in its ability to manage a pension fund.	Stay in CPP	Stay in CPP	Keep your hands off my CPP!! 2943	Quite frankly it seems premature to be asking about how to use those assets when you have yet to receive permission from Albertans to set up a provincial pension plan.				As an Albertan who is already collecting CPP, which I paid into since I was 16, I am NOT in favour of my pension being transferred from an independent well managed fund to an unproven fund manager.
2944					The premiums I pay to CPP are insane and if an APP will lower them so I can afford to live im behind it.

2946	Broad assumptions about new assets. The Panel needs to equally consider that there may be fewer assets if an APP is established.				The survey is quite biased. I want to say that I think itâ€™s not rational to think that Albert will get 53% of the assets to begin with. Itâ€™s a way to further divide the province and country, and we have way WAY more important things to figure out.

Taking that money and investing in Alberta is essentially tripling down on the oil and gas industry which is the opposite of diversification. 2974	I think establishing an Alberta pension plan is an awful idea. This will negatively impact mobility and investment. I will strongly consider leaving the province to another region and am a life long Albertan.		Donâ€™t move the funds and keep cpp as is		Call a referendum or a provincial election with this as an actual campaign policy idea. This is not beneficial for the province and the idea that Alberta should get half of the total is lunacy. This will negatively impact investment and labour mobility in an already unsure time.
2975	Hedge the value of the assets in case the Canadian currency devalues. In the situation where inflation is severe, to protect Alberta seniors the fund should invest in assets that perform well during inflationary times. Alberta's future prosperity and security depend on our independence from Ottawa. Everything which can be done here, should be done here, including pensions, Alberta Police, Alberta Revenue Agency , employment insurance and immigration policy.

People retire all over the world.. Why would Alberta accept illiquid assets? You mean like investing lame duck pipelines? Pensioners may get less than CPP is not acceptable. Currently you can barely deal with the budget and inflation, I would have more faith in this process if it was far more realistic about so called savings. . 3055	I donâ€™t want an Alberta pension plan and will vote against it in any referendum as will my spouse. Itâ€™s telling that is not one of the questions in your bs survey. Youâ€™ll likely discount my results now.	No APP	No to the APP	No to the APP	Iâ€™m not interested in an Alberta Pension plan and donâ€™t trust the current Alberta governmentâ€™s agenda. I will vote against the APP.
3056	Get it under Albertaâ€™s control asap.
3057	First don't change from CPP, second we need to ensure that the plan is growing more then inflation so whichever steps are needed to maintain the pension growth while insuring seniors are receiving the needed benefits from the plan	Don't move from CPP	Don't leave the CPP	Don't leave the CPP	It is foolish to leave a pension plan as highly successful as the CPP
3058	This survey is completely biased and not allowing me to express my opinion of the APP.	The CPP Investment Board	None of the above, don't leave the CPP		This survey will not give an accurate representation of what people truly think of the APP. This survey is extremely bias.
3059	What happens if I move out of Alberta
3060					I don't want an Alberta Pension Plan. If AimCo gives us any idea, it's clear the AB government can't be trusted with our pensions.
3061	Assets are a fantasy number and Lifeworks is out of touch with reality of Albertaâ€™s ability to invest anything long term	Stay away from politics in investments	No Alberta pension plan	Not investing in dying industries	Reason to leave Alberta

3065					This is a horrible idea that nobody asked for. I prefer to keep the stability of the CPP. As someone who is approaching retirement, with a spouse already on CPP Disability benefits, the idea of withdrawing from the national plan is too risky, and I feel the transition would be too costly.

3070	Nothing. Abandon this red meat lunacy. Stay with the CPP and stop deceiving Albertans with ginned up numbers.	Admit you made a mistake, to try and stick it to the feds in your constant state of performative outrage, and perpetual victimhood, and announce you are dropping trying to establish a APP	Just one person, just one person to be an adult in your whole government, would be nice.	Denouncing this lunacy and keeping with the CPP	Embarrassed, anyone associated with this should be embarrassed. Be better, and refuse to participate in this farce.

3072	I would prefer to keep CPP rather than APP	Use same as Quebec	Keep CPP		In my opinion we should keep with CPP. Though Alberta is rich and has high wages now it is not necessarily going to be the economic powerhouse in say 75 years when future generations retire. The CPP is that hedge where no matter what part of Canada is booming there will always be stable contributions. I consider the CPP as a way to diversify future incomes away from the Alberta economy. I am very pro Alberta and want the best for this province but I also know I don't just invest my retirement in one location. I am also pro Canada and I am proud that the economic power of Alberta can help reduce premiums for other poorer provinces. If this report is true and we can reduce premiums for same benefit that means the rest of Canada will have to increase their premiums if we leave it. That is a slap in the face to our neighbours and in no way going to encourage the collaboration we need to bring this country together.
3073	Make it optional for workers, an employee should not be forced to make contributions. If they do not want benefits and will take care of their own affairs then they should be able to opt out.				Thank you for this opportunity to contribute to the decision making process. This would be an excellent move for Alberta and Albertans. I am hopeful I see the day when this happens!
3074	The $334B is an absolute lie to get your constituents to buy in. Any thinking person knows that the rest of Canada will take their portion based on the agreed upon formula. That will leave us with way less than $334B. Keep the CPP.				Just don't do it and stop lying to your constituents to get buy in. You are alienating us from the rest of Canada for political gain. You can be voted out as quickly as you were voted in. You work for Albertans.
3075	Don't establish an Alberta Pension Plan. It will be inferior to CPP.	Any homeless man could administer it better than the private sector	Light all the money on fire before engaging the private sector		Stay in the CPP. Maximizing returns and stability are the most important aspects. An APP will not achieve that.
3076					Hands of my cpp. This is a stupid idea!
3077	DO NOT START AN ALBERTA PENSION PLAN!!	DO NOT START AN ALBERTA PENSION PLAN!!	DO NOT START AN ALBERTA PENSION PLAN!!	DO NOT START AN ALBERTA PENSION PLAN!! This is a giant waste of money that will provide negative benefits. DO NOT TOUCH MY CPP!!!!!!!

3082	If the government panel gets to the the point of considering this they should realize how stupid it is and reverse the decision.	Stay in the CPP	Stay in the CPP	This is a useless push poll.	This survey should have started with a question as to whether Alberta should withdraw from the CPP in the first place. Every question supposes this is a good thing, and it isn't. Any conclusions are skewed positive based on the questions even if you oppose. Useless as a way to actually solicit public opinion. This is a blatant push poll.

3084	Investing the surplus to ensure the fund will be available for future generations and possibly bonus payments for those receiving benefits where funds allow				We have the resources to take care of our own people and it must be a priority. I am fully supportive of an Alberta Pension plan.

Leave as is within CPP	Do not proceed with APP; leave as in within CPP.	Do not proceed with APP; leave as in within CPP. I am opposed to this proposal as a resident of Alberta for almost 40 years, and a citizen of Canada for 58 years. Hands off our CPP.

3100	It is a very bad idea and too high risk. Economy of scale and diversity allows CPP to absorb market and demographic shocks better than a smaller APP could.	Don’t create an APP.	Don’t create an APP.		APP is a terrible idea and this survey is a poorly designed push poll. You should be very ashamed of yourselves for such deceitful fake engagement. Please do better. Albertans deserve better than the garbage misinformation this “engagement” is based on. As currently designed, this entire engagement is demeaning to Albertans. 3113	Don't invest in scams like carbon capture but rather things that can actually make a difference and generate big payouts.			The province sould take the risk of investment	For starters the panel should throw out the idea of an APP based on the fact that it has math that doesn't work. If every provice left the CPP using the caculations from the report the CPP would have to borrow 100s of billions of dollars to make up for the formulas overcompensions. No way in hell should such analysis be released. If it was a published paper in a economics journal it would be retracted for faulty analysis. Please consult with independent (no GOA) economists. There is no economic justification for withdrawing from the CPP.

Iâ€™m in fifth generation Albertan, and if this happens, Iâ€™m taking my family out of the province. I will not let this happen to my money.
3135	Leave the CPP alone there's no chance you can do a better job with our money	Leave CPP alone	Leave it as cpp	CPP should be left alone	This is a misguided idea that somehow 'Alberta' is a contributor to CPP when it's actually Canadian workers that pay into it and should stay that way
3137	The panel should realise that the incremental gains (if any) under an APP are not worth the additional risk. Alberta should remain in the CPP.			Stay in the CPP.	This survey is ridiculous. It's all pie in the sky and says nothing about risks or potential drawbacks. It's embarrassing that a financial professional of any sort would be party to this. The risks taken here for a possible incremental gain are not worth it. We might end up paying more than we do currently, and gaining absolutely nothing for that extra cost. This is a politically motivated, ideological exercise and nothing more. Completely stupid.
3138	As an Albertan citizen of majority age, I do NOT support this unilateral and undemocratic move to withdraw Alberta from CPP to create APP. Please leave the CPP as is.	I do not support the creation of APP. Please leave CPP as is	Please leave CPP as is. I do not support the creation of APP	Please leave CPP as is	Please leave CPP as is. 3144	The panel should not withdraw from the CPP, this is an absolute ridiculous idea and will backfire immensely. Holding assets in a larger pot will always yield larger returns on the investment while also mitigating the potential risks of an investment gone awry. We saw how the gov't lost money on Aimco lost millions in bad investments while the rest of the world thrived. Our government is too focused on investing in tired technologies and regressive ideas that are no longer safe investments. Too much investing with politics and not enough with reality	Without a doubt should not withdraw from CPP	Keep assets within CPP and do NOT withdraw my contributions	Keep these funds in CPP and drop this absurd idea	Yes! You should even be considering this idea. These funds are my retirement and the mentality of local governments is to invest politically. AIMCo lost millions in investments when the markets were returning huge profits because we can't help ourselves but appoint patronage people to these powerful positions who make decisions based on misinformation and misguided investment strategies that focus on the past and fail to consider the future. Keeping my pension in CPP allows a larger pot of money to be diversified more greatly and reduce the risk of failure. I do not want you to 'diversify Alberta.' 3240	I donâ€™t agree with the premise of your question, or the premise of the survey. We should not withdraw from the CPP.				Do not withdraw from the CPP.
3241	Iâ€™d much rather if we kept the Canadian pension plan. Many people come to alberta from other provinces. Establishing a separate pension plan complicated matters and makes our futures less stable.				An alberta pension plan should be in addition to the cpp. It would then be a benefit to people who come to alberta. Taking away cpp would be very bad.

I think instead of having a referendum, the people who want to leave the CPP should be allowed to put their money into a APP and for those who want to stay with the federal cpp can stay there. Itâ€™s a win win for everyone. Iâ€™m on a disability cpp and I donâ€™t want to ever lose that. Will Alberta make that transition from cpp to APP for the disabled.

Keep your greedy hands off of what little retirement I will squeeze out of this terrible province.
3434	Donâ€™t do it
3435	There is no reason to establish a provincial pension plan. The UCP has no mandate to take my CPP contributions and play around with the pension that I have earned. This is ridiculous.			Keep my pension on CPP.	There is no beech for an Alberta pension plan. This is a time-wasting political stunt.

3437	Not in favor of an APP. The UCP and AIMCO have already shown their incompetence at running a pension plan. Why should this be given away to a private for profit company?	Hands off my CPP	Quite happy with the Canadian government doing it	The UCP need to get their mitts off our pensions.	Say NO to privatisation of our health care and our pensions. 3464	When a person who has paid into CPP/APP for many, many years and is single, has no dependents and dies before they got to collect any pension, it would be fair and morally right to give that persons estate the premiums they contributed over the years. Only giving the $2500 death benefit to the estate is shameful and wrong. It should be a huge lump sum or give back their paid premiums. Even the employer loses the way it is done now. The way it is now, the employer matched their contributions but the plan keeps their money if they don't pay out. That is theft by the pension plan. Why pay in for 30 years, die before age 60 being single and all their money is worth only $2500!				Lets do this and also be allowed to make positive changes to an antiquated plan. It must now take into account that there are so many contributors that are single, without dependents and die before they get a chance to collect a penny. This should not be a game of chance to reach age 60 to get any returns on their contributions. Give something to their estate being grown children or other family members as the case may be. Maybe they would like to opt out and do their own investing so they have something to leave their heirs. Times have changed. There are more unmarried people now than ever before. If you do go forward with this scheme, don't let politicians anywhere near any 'surplus'. That money belongs to contributors and needs to stay in the fund. CPP is one of the best managed funds in the world and while the math looks good now, if ever Alberta loses its younger workforce relative to the rest of Canada this will backfire. AimCo has a terrible track record that an index fund ran by a 5 year would have outperformed.	Use CPP	I donâ€™t trust the private sectors. Howâ€™s our energy prices doing right now? Thanks Enron!		Donâ€™t leave CPP, and if we do, just have CPP manage our account with a 100% separation from the political swings that might come with ideas from uneducated politicians who grew up on a farm with thoughts on how to manage 100 s of billions of dollars.

Contributions attributable to an individual should result in an IRR exceeding inflation. With less than incompetent investment, this is imminently achievable. Workers/Annuitants must be able to withdraw commuted or cash value at any time. This withdrawal option is critical to maintaining Albertaâ€™s freedom ethic and advantage. Focus on retirement benefits, remove disability, deal with that elsewhere e.g. AB already has a generous disability program. 3897	The questions in this survey do not accurately allow Albertans to voice their opinion on converting the current CCP to an Alberta Pension Plan. This is not something I would want done, particularly when it is controlled by the UCP government. The report published makes assumptions that are unlikely to accurately play out (like the amount we would be entitled to of the CPP) meaning you are asking for opinions on Fales information.	We should continue with CPP as our pension plan.	This sounds like you want to use our Albertan citizens retirement funds to provide payouts to oil and gas industry, without prioritizing the retirement funds long term growth. 3941		We should not create an APP at all	We should not create an APP at all	We should not create an APP at all	This survey is terribly set up. The questions are only geared under the assumption that an APP is a desired thing. This government needs to fully take many steps back in the process of engagement to listen to the vast majority of Albertans who do not want to separate from the existing CPP.
3942	Albertans donâ€™t want to leave CPP. We donâ€™t need an Alberta Pension Plan and the report is flawed. Just as we saw with AIMCO, leaving CPP would not be in the best interests of Albertans. Please stop using the money of Alberta taxpayers to line the pockets of your friends.			It needs to be separate from the UCP	We do NOT want to move our pensions away from CPP. We donâ€™t need or want an Alberta Pension Plan. The UCP government has already shown their incompetence in moving teacher pensions to AIMCO and losing money. The same thing would happen if they tried to create an Alberta Pension Plan. Stop funnelling our money to your friendsâ€™ pockets.
3944					Keep it out of the private sectors hands. Not something to give to them to profit off of. For that manner this is a bad idea. Leave the pension in the CPP
3945	How do you plan on guaranteeing 344 billion				How do you think your going to attain the 334 billion. What makes you think that you can run it better than itâ€™s being run right now ?
3946	You should consider that Alberta is part of Canada and we donâ€™t turn our backs on our neighbours, brothers and sisters, mothers and fathers, just because they live in a different area in Canada				This survey doesnâ€™t ask if we should and gives no option to make my voice heard that I disagree with the idea of this endeavour. If this is to take the pulse of Albertans you shouldnâ€™t only be asking how it should be done but if it should be done. I am Canadian first, and I stand beside my fellow Canadians and my prosperity should not be held against them.

3956	Integration from the CCP to the AAP is going to need to be as thorough and articulately explained as possible, especially for those already collecting CCP or near the time of collecting CCP, I would suggest a mass mailout explaining every aspect of the plan and being as transparent as possible of all the sources used to consider this plan and the steps involved including timelines in order to gain trust from the public				My primary concern relates to the governing bodies over the plan, to ensure there is no corruption, no political ties to the pension fund and those responsible for running and maintaining the fund are achieving the maximum potential for the fund

3975	1) In the UK “everyone” can contribute to the Plan. For example, a Farmer, a Housewife”. “Anyone”. Not just a Plan for an employee. 2) Your Plan is your plan, your spouse has his/her own plan. You canâ€™t lose it in the case of of divorce. 3) Broaden the “credits” you can get for caring for your grandchildren. Alberta has a childcare oasis issue. When grandparents can fill in the gaps for care (summer break, after school) why not offer credits towards the Plan? Childcare programmes are not always realistic for the rural areas. The UK offers Pension credits for “grandparents” who will this gap, up to age 12.	Protect it from misuse.	Protect it from misuse	Any Plan should adhere to its fiduciary duty.	Can the APP start from birth? Older family members could contribute. Not sure how CRA would feel about that. Imagine the growth by age 18 little own age 60? Let any Alberta resident have an APP(the farmer, the housewife) Broaden the APP credits to include Child Care Credits for grandparents who help fill the childcare oasis is rural Alberta. The UK offers future pension credits for grandparents.

If a government funded pension is necessary, it needs to be focused on maximizing returns rather than ideologically/politically driven motives as I fear the CPP will inceasingly do. 4118	I want you to leave my CPP alone and abandon this idea of the Alberta Pension Plan. I am a Canadian that will retire in Canada. The Alberta government cannot even manage its own finances, in no way will they manage mine. For the record, question 8, the CPP is maintaining my benefits and is growing in size for my future.	Keep my money with CPP and do not create the APP	Keep my money with CPP - this is absurd already.	Over my dead body will you take my money.	The Government of Alberta cannot even manage its own finances and make smart investing decisions. The past 5 years have been horrid in cuts, spending and mismanagement for the Kenney/Smith government. Hell, they can't even rebuild the Heritage fund. I will not nor ever wanted an Alberta Pension Plan. My money stays with CPP, as a Canadian this is one of the most important aspects and CPP has done a wonderful job. Tell Smith and the UCP to keep their hands off my money. All Albertans should be offered an option to stay in Canada's plan as we are Canadian first, Alberta second. She can also shove her sovereignty act up her ass.
4119	That this is a ludicrous idea and we should not be leaving the CPP	Stay in the CPP!	Stay in the CPP		Itâ€™s an absolutely ludicrous idea and a waste of time to even be considering how to do this. We are Canadians, stop trying to divide us with this petty regionalism

4131	17(1) that was probably used as a basis for your report. If you opt out, you will experience anemic investment returns because you will not have private equity. Private equity is one third of the $575 billion CPP portfolio. For example, during the 12-month period ending March 31st, 2021, private equity produced an unheard-of return of 33.2% return. The Alberta plan, with just public equity, might get a 5% return, if lucky. I recommend you get CPP Investments and our deceptive Chief Actuary, to do all your recommendations for benefits in all of Canada, but you stay, with roughly $100 billion, in the CPP.	Especially on investments, use CPPIB.	CPP Investments is 'The best in the world. Period.' See www.fixthecpp.ca	Don't put Albertans money with a 5% return.	It would be suicide to leave the best pension fund investor in the world, averaging 10.9% for 10 years. You have no chance of matching this because they have cherry-picked the best private equity investments worldwide. You would look very foolish when the fund would eventually double with CPP Investments but flounder if you invested it. However, pushing the feds to give the benefits you discuss is logical for each province. www.fixthecpp.ca documents how the financial industry has engineered the biggest cover-up in Canadian history to prevent these benefits from reaching Canadians.

This whole concept is poorly supported and founded. What are the admin costs? Why was the APP asset pool calculated in such an unfair way? Why would Canadians ever agree to this?				I read through the report and how APP assets were “estimated” and it’s so full of errors that I could never support this plan. Beyond there being no estimate or even accountability by any government on admin/management costs, I also look at previous aspiration vs performance (teachers pensions, insurance deregulation, the Heritage fund) and have no trust at all in any provincial government having a say in my pension. This estimate seems like a poison pill that would be DOA in negotiations with the feds and I feel this opportunity was wasted to create some headlines to whip up the UCP TBA base. They have missed the Quebec experience, where they had a young population when it started but an older one now... so their rates have gone up much higher that CPP. Stop putting my pension in the hands of private corporations. This is all a terrible idea. I don't trust your 'independent' report. The system is already working acceptably. Please spend more time fixing things that are actually broken rather than breaking things that are already working
4295	How will the cost of establishing & running the APP affect the fund? What benefit was there for Alberta to be a part of CPP? What does Alberta lose?				Sometimes change is necessary. I've been a low, & no-income individual my entire working life. There are many Albertans in my situation. How will the APP benefit people like me? If you don't take into account the vast, currently-struggling Alberta population, then you'll just end up with more homelessness & other social problems.
4297	Is 53% of CPP assets realistic? What is the a more likely negotiated asset transfer, and how does that impact the report's conclusions?				The bar for a APP would have to be high, the argument for establishing an APP would have to be pretty compelling, reasonably certain and low risk. Why take on that unnecessary risk and uncertainty over a provincial/federal government squabble? So far Im not sold on a APP.
4298	Stop being fucking retards and anti Canadian. Do not do this or we will revolt and kill all of you mother fuckers. It is wrong. It is not what we are owed. How would a federal referendum go? Why are we even pressing forward with this? How might provinces retaliate against us? Pipelines maybe? Where will our friends in confederation be? Pressing forward with this is hurting our reputation in Canada.

4416	That there is no way that Alberta is entitled to 53% of Canada's pension plan and it will NOT get $334 billion. Nor will it be able to get better returns than the CPP at 10% annualized over the last ten years - the QPP only gets 7.9% over the same period			Alberta should not pull out of the CPP.	First-off, the panel should know that there is no way the initial transfer will be $344 billion. It is wreckless to consider otherwise. The CPP act makes it clear that this is not a negotiation and that the formula is interpreted and determined by the federal minister of finance. The CPP Investment Board - who has the most accurate data - estimates the return would be around 16%, not 53% of the total funds. Communicating to the public that Alberta expects 53% of all of Canada's pension plan is wreckless and a cancer to national unity. The panel should consider that the CPP is one of the best managed funds in the world with a 10% annualized return rate over the last 10 years. And that the QPP has only made 7.9% over the same ten years. With less capital to invest and no administrative infrastructure to do so, it is HIGHLY unlikely that an APP will beat the returns.

4454					You fucking idiots. This is a pathetic and misleading survey. What an embarrassment to our province. In no way do we contribute over 50% of the total cpp fund. Keep the cpp intact and you should instead all focus your time trying to successfully put one foot ahead of the other so you don't trip over your clown shoes.

4458	This is bullshit. All of these questions are framed so I can not disagree with the APP at all. Your questions only offer a “don’t know” option if I disagree with the question and the proposal for the APP. I do NOT want the APP. I know why to. It’s not either you agree with this or you are uninformed. Thanks for calling everyone who doesn’t agree uninformed and ignorant. Not a good way to gain votes in 4 years. I for one will be leaving Alberta if you bring in the APP.	Nothing’s, no option above for someone who disagrees with the APP. SHAME a on you!	None of them’s, this APP is bullshit	No options or questions for those who disagree.	This survey is designed to not ask the question of having an APP at all. You assume we all want the APP and you have on,y asked questions on how the plan should be administered. No detailed questions for those who disagree. Don’t you want to know why I hate this idea? Don’t you want to get feedback from ALL Albertans no matter which political party they represent? You don’t care about me at all because you people like hate me, my lifestyle and my rights. This survey proves it. You give me the option of agreement or I must accept I don’t know anything. Total garbage.
4459	The costs related to the pension program are coming from the private housing in the street. The houses are seniors and are pensioners. If we could regulate or improve the services without the clients paying the price for it, it would alleviate pressure on everybody.	Any organization that the NDP or liberals can’t infiltrate and steal all the money from	Any organization that the NDP has no future in controlling		I think it’s a good idea if it’s administered properly. Bureaucracy has a history to be corrupted. Privatization in alberta has created a world of its own problems. Example insurance industry in Alberta is completely corrupt and completely ridiculous and needs to be addressed immediately. Reducing pay first service cost to seniors like insurance and facility costs are part of the step in providing a comfortable future for them, without it costing a lot.

4462	Don't give the government permission to invest part of the APP, that permission creates the temptation of corruption. Investing the pension plan under government direction is insignificantly different from borrowing from it. Have a good idea for an investment? Our seniors are struggling and they shouldnâ€™t be after working the majority of their lives.

Yet again, Danielle Smith has made Alberta the laughing stock of Canada. The absolute audacity to think the rest of the country would stand for the UCP claiming 53% of the CPP. Some day Alberta may have a reversal in having a young population and high employment rate and we will need the support of our fellow Canadians. I believe that we will hurt our relationship with the other provinces if we pursue an APP. I also believe that it will affect the migration of people to Alberta. They will be afraid of the consequences on their pension. I do not see how you think this move would bring investment to Alberta.Any reasonable person would see the amount that has been determined to “belong” to Alberta as unrealistic. There is no way the other provinces or the federal government would agree to such an amount. You should be providing Albertans with the picture if a more conservative figure was received. There are other ways to divide the pool than the criteria used in this report. You should have a number of different approaches th defining Albertaâ€™s portion of the pool and present all scenarios to Albertans.I am a proud Albertan. My great-grandfather came to Alberta in the early 1900s. But even more so I am a proud Canadian who wants to contribute and receive the benefits of being a Canadian. The over 50% of funds that Alberta thinks it should get from the CPP (when Alberta is only the FOURTH most populous province!) is ridiculous and not at all accurate to what the province would actually get if they were to withdraw from CPP. Until the alberta government looks at reality and not the fantasy numbers they have gotten from LifeWorks I am not in support of the plan and don't believe any 'assets' would be available. Iâ€™m not sure what the true motivation is with the conservatives on this issue and I donâ€™t want to find out ! Leave the CPP alone . It doesnâ€™t belong to the provinces it belongs to individuals!

Leave my pension alone	Leave my pension alone	Leave my pension alone. Thieves.	Not sure I have mentioned it but leave my pension alone. I am in the oil and gas industry and I know that this money is your idea to replace lower capital investment in the industry. But it is a terrible idea and we can make it work without robbing albertans of their pension
4972	The panel needs to do more work. This is based on one sided numbers generated by the government of Alberta. Tel us more about how the number was generated. Seems overly optimistic.				Leave well enough alone. It is not well thought out
4974
4975	The Panel should consider that the actual Alberta portion of the CPP fund is never going to be the pie in the sky amount the report has speculated it to be. This government is not competent to handle a sizable fund required to be invested in the best interests of beneficiaries so an Alberta plan would need to be independent from government investment policies. The plan managers are fiduciaries and cannot act based on political agendas.	The administrator must not be subject to any political interference. It is required to be a fiduciary.	See response to 10.	Leave the money with the CPP.	I do not want an APP. Leave it in the CPP. I'm astonished the government is accepting the ridiculous conclusion that Alberta can walk away with half of the entire country's pension fund. This alone demonstrates a lack of reality and competence within this group of people to handle anyone's retirement security. This is terrifying to me as a senior.

5015	This is a truly terrible idea, being part of a larger fund is stabilizing, AB has an economy which is very exposed to volatile industries with questionable long term outlook (oil/gas) being part of CPP mitigates the risk of a collapse in contributions if these sectors have hard times. It also allows for freedom of movement and full portability of benefits within Canada which is important to our economy.	We should stick with CPP			This is a terrible idea, stop now and stick with CPP. Please spend your efforts on the many real problems this province has
5016	This survey is biased in that I have not been asked if I want an Alberta pension plan, it assumes that I agree and I DO NOT				I do not want an Alberta Pension Plan - I would expect at the least we would have a referendum to decide-
5017					I think this initiative is long overdue and we should move forward on this immediately. I frankly donâ€™t see the need for a referendum. Premier Smith was elected and has a mandate to drive her policy initiatives forward. If a referendum is held, please be ready to combat all the expected media pushback and misinformation, itâ€™s going to be extreme and like nothing weâ€™ve seen before.
5018	Invest in renewable energy prospects and ensure that the fund is stable and sustainable. I don't believe that we will be able to drain the CPP fund of more than half of it's assets so I feel that this number would be significantly lower. This means we need to be smarter with the funds should Albertans decide this is the way to go forward.				I think the numbers included in the report are overly optimistic and are not a representation of a realistic outcome of this move. This money is for Albertans and should not be used to economic growth/political leverage/gains. I believe this to be a terrible idea and I fear for my future and my retirement should this go forward.

You might as well ask what colour we want to paint our unicorn.			No political considerations	There is no way CPP is handing over 53% of their assets, no possible way. To even entertain the idea of this and think the rest of Canada won't have something to say about it is ludicrous. This is not an honest discussion and it feels like Albertans are being duped. An APP may or may not be a good idea, but the discussion needs to be based in reality.

5027					I want to continue with CPP. I have concerns with current government taking over administration of my benefits!
5028	Take less of our money in taxes.				The benefit of an Alberta Pension Plan, is that it is administrated in Alberta, by Alberta Workers. This needs to be communicated to everyone, as the federal unions are pushing to keep the jobs of administrating this in Ottawa, so they can control Albertans.

I can't stress enough how foolish this idea is. I worked hard for my money, and count on CPP for much of my retirement. 5038				No political investments.	Merely recreating the CPP in Alberta isn't very useful. Consider making the APP an inheritable asset like in Australia.
5040	This survey does not give the respondent ANY information on the LIABILITIES to be assumed, the unrealistic assumption that Alberta will receive 53 % of the Fund or the sensitivities on amount of assets transferred, who will manage the fund and the dangers of political oversight and interference. It is also an affront to the electorate who voted in the UCP partly on understanding that this inane idea would not be pursued.				I find this whole process contrived with a foregone conclusion. It will take the government's eye off the most critical issues facing the province which is dealing with the climate emergency and transition and not picking fights with the federal government.
5041	I do not believe the report's numbers are anywhere near accurate. Any APP must not invest in oil and gas, strictly.	keep your hands off my CPP.	do not touch my CPP	No oil and gas! 5047	Not move the money out of the CPP and keep it where it is. There are multiple reasons, one of them it will tank as soon as it all gets invested in oil and other legacy uses where it shouldn't go. And there is less diversification on it. If the current government wants to take their personal investments and put it there that's fine with me, but the public funds should remain where they are. So far this survey is very slanted in one way, and poorly designed to get actual opinions.	Keep it where it is.	Keep it where it is.	Not invested in oil, and kept where it is.	It should be left where it is, it is not a piggy bank to be invested in oil. Further on that, we could tax the oil companies on the profit's that they are pulling out of Alberta and dump that into CPP, as we are all Canadian.

5057	I am not in favor of an APP. The CPP is a strong program, there is no need to replace it. If CPP is replaced, we will see young, educated Albertans leave this province in droves. You'll see established professionals who have paid into CPP leave in droves. Quit wasting time and money even considering this and focus on issues actually important to Albertans.			Alberta should remain in the CPP.	There is no need for an APP, there is no benefit to pulling out of a strong, national CPP program. It's obvious the political goal of creating an APP is to go backwards - to disregard reality and pour money into a traditional oil and gas sector. This is not what Albertans want. Creating a APP is a foolish political stunt that will turn away investors in Alberta, turn away educated, young people from staying in, or coming to, Alberta.

5067	In as much as I am supportive of an APP, Iâ€™m concerned that actually receiving the $334B from the federal government will be possible due to the excessive spending over the past 8 years. How do you plan to ensure you are able to transfer this asset without a huge fight? Are there regulations or rules currently in place to ensure the asset transfer will take place?				The GOA has the highest number of provincial employees ever and thereâ€™s potential here to increase that number. I believe in small government and supporting private industry thus a combination of resources that make this plan efficient is very important.

Iâ€™m a proud Canadian and your actions are embarrassing. Leave my CPP alone!!	Leave my CPP alone!!	Leave my CPP alone!!	Leave my CPP alone!	I sure do. You said when you were running that the APP was no longer on the table. I donâ€™t trust you. Stay away from my CPP.
5127	I think this survey is very flawed as there is a strong assumption that 52% will actually be paid out of Alberta divests. I think a more realistic scenario needs to be planned for and not promise a huge amount of money that might never be realized.	Donâ€™t divest from CPP	I am very concerned about political interference in my pension after witnessing what happened with the teachers pension. Any structure needs to ensure this does not happen.	a guarantee of no political interference	I am extremely nervous about this plan as I have no faith the plan would not be used to political purposes and to fund industry that is not financially viable. This will also limit my mobility options with Canada. I do not support this with the current information available

5129	Must maintain fund Stability
5130	There is not the slightest chance that Alberta is going to walk away with half of the CPP assets . Come back to us when you have a moment Iâ€™an based in reality,		Keep the provincial gvt. And private sectorâ€™s hands off my retirement fund or I will be motivated to take to the streets with thousands of others to stop you.	Itâ€™s very important that we remain part of the CPP	I am implacably opposed to the idea. I am a Canadian .
5131					This is a terrible idea. We may have a strong economy with a larger contributing population right now, but that may not always be the case. With the CPP, the liability risk is mitigated over a population 10 times the size of Alberta. Many top-level economists with the U of C have poked numerous holes in the report and it feels more about fighting Ottawa than getting Albertans a better deal. Please, please, please don't do this!
5132	Increase of benefits may be required to get buy in. Ok with that. Investment board independent of government, but monitored for ethics issues and corruption. I want AB police force, but not funded through pension fund.	An immediate transition will likely be a mess. I want to see a transition and the bandage would have to be removed, but I think it would give more comfort to people to have the transition be smooth.			Some weighting towards AB in investment is fine whether it be 'renewable' energy, LNG facilities, nuclear or anything else. But returns and independence from gov needs to be the priority. The biggest problem is that a change in gov could result in a change in legislation imo.

5133	Ensure that the operation of an APP would be entirely independent of government, non-partisan and apolitical. These terms overlap to emphasize that politics must NOT be involved in the plan and oversight must be independent of government.			Regular actuarial scrutiny and public reporting.	By its nature, this discussion is political and that makes me wary of the 'facts' purported by the report. So far, I have seen only pros and no cons to the idea which leads me to believe the current provincial government is leaning toward an APP (perhaps to make 'political hay'?). Much more thoughtful discussion is needed prior to any referendum (which I find frightening in itself).
5134	Don't start an APP, it isn't worth the risk, and the monies that were calculated are inaccurate. Don't waste taxpayer dollars on this initiative.	Don't switch stay with CPP	Don't switch	Don't switch, cost isn't worth the risk.	Don't switch. Stay with the CPP. Disappointing that this even has to be written as it was indicated during the election that this was not a campaign point.
5135	Increase pension for seniors		Use for affordable housing in Canada.	Use for affordable housing	Economists say your study is flawed. How can Alberta take 53% of the pension plan when we did 16% of the contributions. We should have 1 strong CPP in Canada, with higher premiums and higher benefits, and use the money from CPP to invest in Canada, such as by building affordable housing.
5136	Stability is paramount. Political interference in investment choices cannot be permitted. There is a fiduciary duty to ensure the pensions are available to all who paid in and this cannot be compromised by competing interests. We should even be contemplating establishing a new pension plan as the CPP is already doing the job well for all Albertans.	We should use the same provider and STAY in the CPP.	We should stay in the CPP. It already works well, and adding another organization just adds extra red tape for Albertans and prospective Albertans.	We should stay with the CPP.	We should stay with the CPP. It already serves us well, has a good rate of return, allows us the mobility to work elsewhere in Canada and even to receive our pensions in other countries. Being part of a larger population base offers more stability in the long term. We must not squander that.

5141	We have to consider the larger political implications of withdrawing 50% of assets from the CPP (if that would ever be allowed to happen). How could we ever get pipelines built with that amount of animosity from the rest of Canada? We need to be more strategic than this for Alberta's future. It can't just be a short-term cash grab for the APP.	An arm's-length entity not beholden to government interests	An arm's-length entity not beholden to government interests		Please look at the overall political implications of withdrawing half the CPP - we will set interprovincial relations back decades and make it it very difficult to advance Alberta's other priorities like pipelines, multiprovince investments, and efforts to influence federal policy. If this must happen, please think carefully of the future rather than falling into the trap of investing in boom-and-bust cycles of Alberta's legacy economy. This could be transformative for Alberta industry and investment, but not if we continue to do things as though it were still the 1980s.

This UCP Government will fumble this just as badly if not WORSE than the 2 Billion dollar loss to the teachers pension fund.	How about you Stay with the CPP.	Keep CPP. Stop with this Madness	STAY WITH CPP	SCRAP THIS PLAN!!!! This is completely ill conceived and unwanted by the vast majority of Alberta. When I decide to Retire or move from Alberta?? Do I no longer qualify for the CPP Ive been paying into my entire working life???
5157	The UCP would be wise to not leave the CPP. The report was predicated on false presumptions, and not grounded in reality.				The UCP campaigned on this not being an issue, as we have already witnessed the consequences of the Teacher Pension Fund losing MILLIONS under their watch. Let's be clear; this is NOT something Albertan's want. This is posturing for a 'better deal' for emissions and Gov't transfers. DO NOT INVEST IN AN APP. Period.
5158	The best option for long-term security is leave our money with the CPP. They can print money if things go wrong, Alberta can't. This APP idea is illogical.	Use the existing CPP provider again. Creating a new one of engaging the private sector is just re-creating more duplication and costs which is illogical.	Keep our funds managed with CPP. Re-creating more duplicate services is illogical and a waste of time and money.	Most Albertans want to stay with CPP	This all sounds like a giant waste of time and money, you already know >99% of Albertans want to stay with CPP. Stop duplicating work and wasting taxpayer time and money and leave it the way it is. Or at least have a referendum.

5174	CPP fund is, in part, a jobs program for high-paying finance jobs in Toronto (the CPP Board has more than 1500 employees). While I am not a big fan of retirement assets being managed by the government, I'd rather the assets be managed in Alberta instead of Toronto. Former chief analyst at Stats Canada (Phil Cross) completed an analysis many years ago and found that the CPP had the highest costs compared to other big public pension funds. Additionally, as these funds get bigger and bigger, they experience diseconomies of scale and there is merit in having a smaller provincial fund versus the big dumb CPP.	Perhaps something somewhat like the Swedish system where you get some allocation options with your public pension contributions.	I believe people should have options about how their contributions are allocated.	Hurting Ottawa.	Alberta has been getting expropriated through the CPP system and subsidizing less productive parts of the country, encouraging them to stay less productive. Ottawa doesn't want to have to tell everyone else 'you need to pay more because Alberta doesn't want to be part of our scam anymore,' so I think Ottawa will be very bothered by this.
5175	Pitting Canadians against Canadians is a stupid and dangerous policy.	Stand alone agency with a a law prohibiting the Alberta Government from interfering in the affairs or accessing the funds. Invest in green technologies and Climate Change mitigation .	By law prohibit the Alberta Government from accessing the fund or interfering with investment decisions.	Divest from Carbon based industries.	This is a political ploy by the UCP to divide Canadians and protect their corporate masters.

Who are the members/employers/employees of 'Lifeworks'; 3. What terms of reference/directions did the UCP mandate that 'Lifeworks' adhere to in searching for, interpreting, and presenting their economic data forecasts; 4. What are the sources Lifeworks used to come up with such flawed economic data; 5. What opportunities were provided to the Alberta pubic, other than UCP adherents and UCP-vested interests, to review the findings and recommendations of the 'Lifeworks' report.	Given its ongoing abysmal, almost criminal performance in managing investments of Albertan's money, the UCP government's AIMCO should not be allowed to have any access to pensions funds, nor to have any input into managing the investments of such funds.	As noted in my response to #10, no Alberta (read UCP) created or controlled APP Investment Board can be trusted to ethically or competently manage Albertan's money. Simillarly, by 'the private sector' the UCP means businesses that support the UCP's goal of supporting their business friends at the expense of the Alberta public. Accordingly, the 'private sector' cannot be trusted to ethically or competently manage Albertans' money.	I don't agree with an APP.	As I have noted previously, there is a complete lack of transparency, as well as a flawed perception and presentation of economic 'facts' regarding the financial viability of an APP. As a critical thinking Albertan who is concerned about the financial welfare of ordinary Alberta citizens, I find this to be a clumsy attempt to fool Albertans into parting with their hard earned money.

How can one province take more than half of the total. Albertans have taken money from the Canadian Pension Plan. Overall this does NOT make sense. The whole idea of taking a huge chunk of money from the CPP is ludicrous. AIMCO lost $4 billion from the pension plan already. Obviously the ucp government is not competent to handle pension funds IMHO.	The ucp government is not equipped to deal with managing pension funds. My pension was doing fine until AIMCO became the manager. Now my pension is not creating more funds because AIMCo is not a great investment.	This is just nonsense. I have to put check marks because it is a ranking and I do not want my CPP managed by incompetence. AIMCO lost $4 billion through poor management. Our pension funds will be frittered away by a government that has no idea how to invest and keep the money growing. My pension was doing great under the original management. And there should never be an organization open to political interference in investments involved should you force it through.	The risk associated with this move is unacceptable and the performance of the CPPIB and the returns from CPP should not be torpedoed for a vanity project without merit.	This survey is shockingly bad.	If the government of Alberta was serious about the ideas of Albertans and our wishes with regard to pensions, this wouldn't have been hidden away during the recent election. Using our pensions as a means of negotiation with the federal government and musing about the use of our funds to invest in what the government sees as priorities is beyond the pale. This is a torqued and poorly crafted survey taped onto a poorly constructed survey to support an ideological pet project. Please don't do this.

5349	The panel should consider that there is somewhere between none and zero percent chance that if Alberta withdraws from the CPP plan, that it would receive 53% of the asset base of the CPP. Thie Lifestyle Report is clearly a â€œscamâ€ to try and convince Albertans that the UCP plan is a good idea and to maybe falsely influence a referendum vote. DONâ€™T LIE TO USðŸ˜˜iðŸ˜˜iðŸ˜˜i. We have one of the best in the world	I cannot stress enough how much I oppose this plan	I am 100% opposed to this idea. No qualifiers to the statement. Just an absolute no from me. Also, the format of this survey is inadequate as it doesn’t actually ask my opinion of having an APP, it presupposes there will be one which is terrifying. Last I checked, at least for now, we are still in a democracy and politicians are to be accountable to the voters. UCP said this was not to be an election issue. I guess people failed to read between the lines and realize that simply meant you would go ahead and do as you pleased if elected. This is an embarrassment to Alberta, not only to other Canadians but on the world stage. Shame on you!!
5351	How would this plan affect other Canadians? And how would it be perceived by other Canadians? Would it further divisions in our country?				The perception of this at first glance is bad for the country's unity. 5358	The study appears to be hypothetical and not based on facts. To assume Alberta is entitled to 53% of the assets of CPP indicates a major flaw in the assumptions of the report. There is no compelling reason for Albertans to exit the CPP and the mandate of this study is designed to result in a bias to arrive at the conclusion Albertans will benefit. I think people are having fewer children now, so it is important to maintain a healthy balance in the fund to cover future payments, when less people may be contributing				I think this is a necessary step in distancing Alberta from Ottawa. Alberta needs to be more independent. We have a VERY unfair electoral system and the west's vote doesn't really matter. If that does not change Alberta will always be at the mercy of Quebec and Ontario and they are the ones who voted in this current travesty of a federal government. A much more realistic scenario should be presented to Albertans.

5479	Hard questions - with the rate of inflation - by the time I retire, the pension fund is going to be peanuts for the younger generation anyways, will hardly cover any living expenses. We can't afford to live month to month right now, let alone put money aside for an ever growing fund that won't be worth as much when we retire. It's important to make right now affordable while contributing to a stable fund - and it's important that it's in Alberta and not Federal. Just don't know how you strike that balance. Future generations won't benefit as much from this.				It's a great idea. I know a lot of people in my age group don't have high expectations for any kind of pension with the way government spending is going and inflation. Any money savings now would be great. Most of us know we won't be able to retire anyways.

Stay in the CPP	Stay in the CPP		The CPP belongs to Canadians, not the provinces. The $334 billion asset transfer from the CPP that the report uses as a basis for the calculations is complete fantasy. No reasonable Canadian would think that Alberta could rightfully pull that amount of investment out of the CPP. I really wish our government would stop wasting our limited funds on things we don't need. How much money was spent on the Lifeworks report? How much money is being spent setting up and analyzing this survey. Who asked for this? It was not campaigned on in the last election. This money would be better spent on our deteriorating education and healthcare systems that the UCP government seems committed to driving into the ground.

5666	ensure that employer pension plans remain in tact and that under no circumstance could the government take over the plan, redirect these funds into their plan or take away from Albertans				this initiative should proceed with extreme caution. Ensure ALL factors including risk be truly analyzed. Must be an honest, open and transparent process. This change should go to all Albertans in the form of a referendum which is the democratic approach, Albertans should have the option to opt out should the new proposed plan be detrimental to them
5667	Safe and stable investments, and environmental impact of the pension's assets. They should not use the assets to prop up a dying oilsands industry.	A monkey from the Calgary zoo would do a better job than anyone The UCP would hire.	Once more, I'd trust a monkey from the Calgary zoo before I would trust a UCP created APP Investment board.	Doing better than AIMCO. My hopes are not high.	This is a terrible and pointless idea. The report was riddled with ludicrous assumptions and was very misleading. Albertans are being lied to. The CPP is one of the best managed assets in the world. Alberta will sorely regret this, especially in a few decades when oil and gas extraction make up a smaller percentage of Canada's economy. It seems as though the main goal is to use our hard earned pensions as a slush fund to enrich companies the government likes and private sector investors. I have zero confidence that an APP will provide better returns for less contributions.
5668	The report being relied on is bogus. Please see Trevor Tombe's recent paper: 'The Alberta Pension Advantage? A Quantitative Analysis of a Separate Provincial Plan.' He estimates an APP's minimum contribution rate (the rate that maintains predicted plan assets relative to plan expenses) is 8.2 percent -- not 5.9% -- compared to the CPP's 9.5 percent. He also explores several relevant risks, including future demographic changes and investment risks. This is a bad idea.		Under no circumstances should pension funds be used to further the economic interests of politically favored industries	Prohibit political investing	The report you rely on is recklessly misleading. You are being dishonest with Albertans. You should correct the record before further engaging -- you should acknowledge that how much of the CPP an APP would get will ultimately be the result of negotiations and likely litigation, that the courts will determine which formula is reasonable, and that there are numerous unknowns. You should also dedicate time to acknowledging and discussing the precarious state of the oil and gas industry over the coming decades (in light of domestic and global climate policies) as a credible risk factor in terms of estimating Alberta's economic prospects and migration patterns.

5712	This is silly. All of the questions so far have been based on a fantasy: The $334 billion estimate. For example, if you read the paper by Trevor Tombe, you see a much smaller estimate, which is also much more realistic. There is no value in asking people how they would allocate money they will realistically never have. By the way, why were the people involved in the Lifeworks report unwilling to identify themselves (the signature is redacted)?	Again, you are avoiding the most important question: should we create an Alberta Pension Plan in the first place? The Tombe report makes clear that the gains to doing so are potentially small (and possibly negative), and there is a lot of risk involved.	Don't create the APP in the first place.		Finally. From the nature of the questions, I assumed you would never give us an opportunity to provide comments on this whole enterprise. The Tombe report, which I have read carefully, provides a much more believable estimate (20-25%) of the asset transfer than the Lifeworks report (that no-one was willing to attach their name to in the executive summary). The questions in this survey are based on a fantasy. Realistically, while there may be some potential minor gains from creating the APP, it comes with additional risks. The CPP is currently managed very well, and is able to achieve strong returns and stability because of its large size. As well, I have real fears that the APP would be used politically to invest in priorities of the government in power, as opposed to simply maximizing returns and minimizing risk. Any survey that doesn't start with the question of whether people agree with creating the APP in the first place is clearly an exercise designed to get the answers you want, instead of actually finding out what people think.

5802	Consider not reducing employer contributions while reducing the employee contribution. If you truly feel you need to reduce the employer contribution, then only do so for "small businesses" while large corporations pay the full amount. Then you can give small business a break and still charging large corporations the full amount. They can afford it. This additional benefit to an AB pension fund can be used to grow the fund and make it more stable. So you can increase the payout to seniors and/or reduce the worker paid portion into the fund and still increase the stability of the fund.	Use the Alberta Public Service Pension fund administrator	Use the Alberta Public Service Pension fund manager		I support doing this. To build on how the funds are invested (I couldn't fit this in the space provided), elected official should not be able to change the law to give themselves power to control the investments. Attempting to do so, should be a criminal offense complete with significant time in jail.
5803					I hope that an Alberta Pension Plan moves forward.

5808	Wipe student loans	Remain in CPP	Remain in CPP	DO NOT DO THIS!!! REMAIN IN CPP	Do not leave the CPP. This is not only a bad move for Alberta but also for the country. Shameful to go against the majority within Alberta to do this.
5809	This is an idiotic idea based on actuarial fantasy and political ignorance. An APP can result in one outcome: poorer retirement income for Albertans.		Don't leave the CPP IN THE FIRST PLACE		AB relies on other Canadians to come here and work for our industries. An APP distinct from perfectly portable CPP = crippled labour force as other Canadians are now outraged at the imbecilic claim for 53% of CPP assets. And many mobile Albertans will move elsewhere to preserve their financial future. Little Wexit can sod off.

5810	All assets should be used for pension benefits.				I was never given the option to indicate that I am NOT supportive of the APP. I want my pension to remain with the CPP. There is no way an APP will get anywhere near the assets that the report indicates Alberta is entitled too. Alberta is a part of Canada, I moved here BECAUSE it was a part of Canada. AIMCo already has messed with public sector pensions, don't make the same mistake with our national pension program.
5811					Do not leave the CPP, an Alberta Pension Plan is a bad idea based on unrealistic numbers
5812	More comprehensive health benefits for seniors , enhanced drug and dental coverage				Alberta needs to determine its own path on pension
5813	Should consider that there is no guarantee that their economic predictions will happen. This is gamble with saving that people have all ready paid into. Also the numbers suggested in the report are confusing and create more questions than answers. As well the start up, infrastructure, and staffing to set this up I feel is grossly underestimated.The staffing and start up plus maintenance of the program is going to cost more for the tax payer.	Neither, the CPP should stay as it is.	Neither, the CPP should stay as it is.	Do not support APP	The report provided only describes the best case scenario and puts pension investment at risk that Albertans have already been paying into and that is already well established. To start a new program would cost the tax payer billions in infrastructure and staffing costs as well there is no guarantee that Alberta will secure the amount of investment it needs to support the program. The report projects numbers, but does little to break down where these numbers come from and causes more confusion and uncertainty with peoples security during retirement, disability, and other life events. I do not support the creation of the Alberta Pension Plan.
5814	They shouldn't establish an APP. Spend your time doing things that will help Albertans, not this performative bs.	Anybody but not private sector or connected to AB Government.	Don't leave. It does not address changes in demographics either nor does it address what happens when f people move out of AB. I am strongly against the withdrawal of CPP to and AB pension fund. There are too many risks in my opinion.	I am not in favour of creating an AB pension plan. There are many layers currently protecting out CPP. Leave it alone.	Leave it with the current CPP.	I be am not in favour of an AB Pension Plan.	As previously stated, I am not in favour of moving from CPP to an AB Pension Plan. I do not trust the AB Govâ€™t to manage my pension. The UCP should have brought this forward as an election issue which they did not. Now they are trying to push this through. I am totally against this move. You have permanently lost all credibility as a result. You are saying we Albertans could benefit from such a plan, so that justifies the negative impact on the rest of Canada. Shame on you. I'm a Canadian first, Albertan second.
5837	I am not in favour of an Alberta Pension Plan. All these types of plans work better if they have a larger base and a larger base allows for bigger investments. I fear that if it becomes Provincial it cannot be properly protected.				Please donâ€™t do this. We donâ€™t have the internal expertise. The spectre of unbeneficial influence is huge. Alberta is just as expensive as BC and Ontario now. Stop giving our money to big corporations!
5842	I think you should consider that a APP will NOT benefit Albertans, that the numbers you're using are not legitimate, and that you need to listen to Albertans who DON'T want to leave the gold-standard CPP.	Replicating a whole new administrative system for APP is NOT the way to save money. Certainly do NOT engage the private sector.	I do not want my pension to be taken over by an APP under any investment manager.		I don't want an APP. Do not create a plan. This is a terrible idea.	This is so stupid. DO NOT CREATE AN APP!	Turn your attention to helping Albertans and away from this disaster. Your asking Albertans turn their backs on their fellow Canadians by destroying their pension. Stop it. This is an awful idea designed to create political strife. Irresponsible nonsense.

5989	I do not want an APP. People need to be able to move and work in different jurisdictions in Canada and the CPP best allows this inter-jurisdiction free movement.	Do not create an APP	Do not create an APP		I do not want an APP. People need to be able to have freedom of movement to live and work in jurisdictions across Canada and the CPP best allows this. An APP also would neddlessly increase administrative costs. Finally, the CPP is one of the best managed funds in the world - the Alberta government should not deprive Albertans of that.

5991	We should not be establishing an APP. This is not consultation. I feel as though I am living in soviet style disinformation.	Unreal. Crappy survey continues	I am appalled at this being presented as consultation. Sneaky. Underhanded manipulation. This whole process is an embarrassment. Obviously this government believes citizens have no critical thinking skills at all!
5993	Release an updated projection using contemporary modeling equations and numbers, and stay in the CPP. It is the best course of action for all Canadians -- of which, Albertans are Canadians.		Keep our funds in the existing CPP Invements Board and Accounts		Stay in the Canada Pension Plan. Leaving it will cause instability with investment and business groups. It will further isolationist policies with our fellow provinces and nation. The lift to create the infrastructure and systems is a waste of taxpayer money. Invest in our public schools, healthcare, and public services. And the NDP at least gave us surveys without such short word limits.

Moreover it does not reflect that many Albertans retire to different provinces, making the entire argument for an Alberta-based pension silly.			Leave it with CPP	The entire notion of an Alberta Pension Plan is nonsense. Voters do NOT want this. It is being sold to voters under the false pretence that the provincial will somehow receive a massive payout from CPP. It would create a bloated, provincial bureaucracy, will reduce investment returns, risk of political interference and ignores that many Albertans retire elsewhere in Canada. Look to Quebec to understand the bureaucracy and duplication required to run the QPP. This is a silly policy straw dog and, if implemented, will encourage us to leave this province.
6010					DON'T Change to an APP. The current CPP system works well for ALL Canadians and is not subject to ANY FORM of political interference. POLITICS RUINS EVERYTHING IT TOUCHES !

6013	I'd rather pay the same premiums of the current CPP and see our seniors and others reap a greater benefit from the APP. Too many seniors live in poverty, and if we can build and grow the fund sustainably while giving our seniors greater security, it's worth the investment. We also need to be cautious and should continue growing the fund because Alberta is a province that continues to rely on revenues from non-renewables, and while that contributes significantly to the higher average wages and contributions, we must be cautious looking 50-100 years into the future about how our economy will grow, shift and develop. This needs to be advantageous not just now, but for the next 50-100 years.				Albertans and Alberta seniors deserve to benefit from the contributions we make to our pensions. It's unfortunate that Albertans pay more into it than they will ever see returned. If we have the ability to increase the benefits to our seniors while prioritizing growth and stability of the fund, I think it's a worthwhile investment. However, if it is simply and apples to apples switch, I don't believe it would be worth the headache.

6020	Obviously we make enough to grow the fund over time. We need help now. Not later.				Do it. Something needs to chnage and this is a good start to help the rest of canada realize how much not only oil and gas has done but that alberta itself has contributed to people all over canada
6021	I will not support limiting our nation-wide CPP plan for a provincial one.	I do not want to see an Alberta Pension Plan.	Again - these are leading questions to push this initiative forward. 6038	The Panel should consider that this plan is ludicrous and that Albertans do not want it. Stay in CPP and spend time and energy on the major problems in this province: collapsing health care including many rural areas with no/intermittent ER and obstetrical services, non-existent public health including a severe pediatric E.coli outbreak, and crumbling public education with the lowest per-student funding in the country, all while posting an 11 billion dollar surplus. Stop wasting your constituents' time and money and at least pretend to be in any way serious about governing.	The province of Alberta should not create an Alberta Pension Plan	The province of Alberta should not create an Alberta Pension Plan	Do not create an APP	As I have indicated throughout this ridiculous survey that is set up to prevent responses of this type: Albertans do not want or need an Alberta Pension Plan. There are major problems in this province that the government is willfully ignoring and has helped create: collapsing health care, poisoned drug supply, collapsing public education, zero public health, etc. Do not waste more money on a nonsensical provincial pension plan that no one wants and that is guaranteed to be mismanaged and cost Albertans more than they have already lost under this incompetent government.

Its pension plan model is the envy of the world, with Canadian plans outperforming their international peers on all fronts over the past two decades, according to new research from McGill University. “Canada is fairly unique,” says Sebastien Betermier, associate professor of finance at the Desautels Faculty of Management and study co-author. Alexander D. Beath, Chris Flynn, and Quentin Spehner of the global benchmarking firm CEM Benchmarking also contributed to the research. The McGill-led study is the first to use real data to do a quantitative analysis of asset allocation strategies and cost structures for 250 pension, endowment, and sovereign wealth funds across 11 countries between 2004 and 2018. Researchers examined the performance of large and small funds, depending on whether their assets under management exceeded US $10 billion in 2018. In doing so, researchers sought to gain a clearer understanding of the way the Canadian model functions “and unlock the keys to success not only for financial planners, but also for current and future retirees with a pension. “The insights that we get from this paper about the way Canadian funds invest on behalf of thousands of people can be useful for individuals who want to think more strategically about how to design their own portfolios,” says Betermier.

6123	How about getting a realistic figure to work with instead of an overly inflated hypothetical amount that appears way too good to be true? Not doing so limits any trust that should govern these discussions.	Don't create an Alberta Pension Plan.	Again, don't create an Alberta Pension Plan.		I cannot be any more clear: I am in no way supportive of this move. This government is not being entirely honest with the people of Alberta and is using smoke, mirrors, and big numbers to impress at first glance. This is not a good move and I oppose it in its entirety.
6125	Define things clearly make it reasonable and easy to understand. Employer pay stays same, employee pay goes down X%. Assets are x, liabilities y.				If itâ€™s not stated clearly it is independent then any referendum will fail. If benefits canâ€™t be summed up in a paragraph it will fail. Plan this out

6128					I STRONGLY support an Alberta Pension Plan. We must do everything possible to separate our selves from Ottawa. The current situation can no longer be tolerated. All APP funds should be invested in Alberta to make Alberta stronger.

6131	This would be a mistake and I do not support an APP, me and my family will take our skilled healthcare labor to another province if this were to take place.			I do not support the plan for switching to APP.	I do not support this and my family will leave if it is put into place. Myself and my husband have easily transferable jobs and can move provinces. We will do so if APP goes ahead. I am disgusted with the fact that Danielle Smith did not campaign on this and would then go ahead with it now. Albertans do not want this.

6133	do not do this !! CPP works leave it alone	definitely not the government	Do not do this	leave CPP alone	if this is as musmanaged at the heritage fund we are in trouble. leave it alone it works
6134					What the fuck are you clowns doing?
6135	I am strongly opposed to withdrawing from CPP and am very upset you are attempting to do something that the Premier would not campaign on and avoided talking about.	Do not withdraw from CPP	Do not withdraw from CPP	Do not withdraw from CPP	It is a horrible idea. Do not withdraw from CPP

6137					Lets get it done!
6138	I think the panel should consider what to do in case that there is not a savings over the current situation!	the existing CPP provider is the only option in my view	see above		Yes I do. This entire exercise is silly and clearly a biased ideological approach based on questionable assumptions. Please leave CPP alone, and raise some of the obvious risks based on the small base for an APP.
6140	It is not a good idea to pull out of the CPP.				I do not want to pull out of CPP to make a APP. This is ridiculous and was not what the UCP said they were going to do during the election.

6141	If Quebec and Ontario can do it, why can't we in Alberta?	Other = third party, not sure who, maybe a mix of two options	Other = third party, not sure who, maybe a mix of two options	Keep Alberta's money and investments IN ALBERTA.	It's about time Alberta does what's right for Alberta. We have been last on Ottawa's list for far too long, somethings gotta give! Alberta deserves change and deserves to prosper! We don't want hand outs or government subsidies. We want to work and bring home big paycheques. Axe the 'carbon tax'! Why is Canada one of THE ONLY countries in the world to have to pay this illegal tax on tax?
6142	We donâ€™t need an Alberta Pension Plan, stick with the CPP. This whole idea is silly			Keep CPP	This is such a waste of time and money. Just keep the current CPP that the rest of Canada (aside Quebec) uses.
6143	That the amount will be significantly less than projected, and the numbers in the Lifeworks report are based on incorrect assumptions.				Please do not move to an Alberta Pension Plan. This is something where the juice is not worth the squeeze.
6144	Just don't do it. This is an absurd and unrealistic undertaking.	Please just don't do it, it is a brash and entitled proposition. $334 billion is outlandish	None I do not support any of this.	DON'T DO THIS	Don't do this, I do not like this plan whatsoever.

6182	I am incredibly disappointed by the questions in this survey and the lack of any ability to offer a dissenting opinion. The optics of the questions asked in this survey imply that everyone completing it is in agreement with the plan to create an APP. It's obvious that an evaluation professional was not consulted in drafting this survey's questions and this survey's design leaves me with the impression that it only exists to pretend that Albertan's engaged in a consultation process; yet this process is neither fair nor unbiased!	Leave CPP alone. We don't need an APP.	Leave CPP alone. We don't need an APP.	The overt bias of this survey is very concerning	1. I don't want an APP. I want to stay with CPP 2. The bias in the survey questions throughout is disturbing 3. It looks like you've made a decision and are using this survey to attempt to prove you've consulted with Albertan's before making an announcement. 4. I've never been so embarrassed of my government than I am after seeing the APP report, reading the press releases, than seeing this survey. 5. The UCP intentionally did not campaign on an APP. Pushing a narrative that Albertan's want or agree with an APP is not the actions of an honest or transparent government.
6183					Please do it and do it quickly!
6184	Do not remove funds from CPP. Do not create Alberta Pension Plan. Totally against this	None of the above. Leave with CPP.	None of the above leave fundsvin CPP. Hands off my pension	Leave CPP as is.	Leave CPP as is. Poorly thought out idea.

6186	A pension plan should NEVER be behind. People entering the work force should be putting money into a pension plan that THEY are guaranteed to receive, not paying for the generation currently retiring.				The pension plan should be set in place so that the retiring workforce does not have to worry about income. A pension plan should be able to subsidize income to maintain a high quality of life. Since the pension plan is not optional, we should know that our money is being invested properly, and given back at a rate that guarantees comfort for the rest of the retirees life.
6187	I want to stay in the CPP	Stay as part of the CPP	Do not remove the funds from the CPP	Should stay in the CPP since they are diversified	We should NOT set up a APP

You must be follow the Brexit plan, make wildly unsupported claims if windfalls, with no mention of ANY risk. Turn your brains on.	Leave my pension alone. No way Dani and TBA get to decide where investments are made!!	Put your idiotic â€œmathâ€ numbers where they belong, in the garbage	pension must be independent of nutbar government	Alberta doesâ€™t need to take a high functioning pension plan and screw it up, like this government has already done with everything from childrenâ€™s aspirin to the brainless Rstar plan. 6201	Keep control in independent hands and NO political interference.				What are the impacts when Alberta separates from Trudeau land (Canada)?
6202	Bad idea. Let the grown ups speak. This is a nothing sandwich. Leave the CPP alone.				Do not leave the CPP. Bad idea.
6203	These questions are based on the false assumption that an APP would actual realize the savings laid out in the report (which has already been widely refuted). I don't believe that to be the case, and any questions about how we use these 'Savings' should include the caveat that it's likely there will be no such savings.	There should not be an APP. Moreover, I don't think the private sector is the right answer, as this will likely lead to the type of conflict of interest that this government has show it has no issue with.	There should not be an APP. I don't believe the is government has the wherewithal to create an effective pension plan. Moreover, I think they would direct the APP to be invested ideologically (likely too heavily leveraged in oil and gas) rather than allowing experts to determine the best/most prudent investment strategy.		The idea of setting up an Alberta pension plan is in direct opposition to the principles of a government that claims to be against unnecessary spending. Duplicating what has been an incredibly effective system in the CPP is at best a wasteful duplication of efforts, driven by ideological anti-Ottawa sentiment held by the current government. Moreover, the assumption that an APP, with a smaller investment base would be able to outperform the CPP, and produce savings, ignores the realities of the efficiencies of scale, and the track record of the CPP. Creating an APP, would be a wasteful endeavor that I think would ultimately see Albertans paying more, for a smaller benefit.
6205	Assets should be held in a segregated fund that the government has absolutely no ability to influence. Basically, leave the money with the CPP.	Don't touch my pension.	Don't touch my pension	Don't touch my pension	Alberta cannot be trusted to manage government funds, let alone a person's pension. Under no circumstances should the Alberta government have any control or influence over my retirement pension.
6206	For the love of god dont make a APP	Please for the love of god dont create the APP	>:(		Stop messing with what already works, your going to (further) ruin this province for the benefit of a few, itâ€™s incredibly selfish, how can you not see this or just not care?

	V	AA	AG	AN	AO
6207	Giving them back to the rest of Canadians	Don't do APP	Don't do this		This is a horribly short sighted idea that you should be ashamed of. The very fact that this survey doesnt even ask if we want an APP is insulting and undemocratic. As a former UCP supporter, you will lose my vote and donations in perpetuity if you continue with this uncanadian Alberta first bullshit.
6208	I would prefer to stay in the Canadian pension plan. I do not trust AB politicians to operate an AB pension plan honestly.				I think an AB pension plan will increase costs for the plan and deliver less to those who it serves. KEEP AB IN THE CPP PROGRAM
6209	Combination of reducing premiums, increasing benefits, and growing the fund would be valuable.				Better administered than CPP, more efficient, invest back into driving albertas economy!
6210
6211	The panel should tell Danielle Smith to keep her hands off our CPP!	The province should not create an Alberta Pension Plan	The province should not create an Alberta Pension Plan	No to an Alberta Pension Plan	The province should not create an Alberta Pension Plan
6212
6213	Consider that the numbers the questions are based on are wishful thinking. In no way will it ever happen that Alberta gets 53% of the CPP assets. Starting from a position where you assume the province gets 53% of assets is the equivalent of assuming I grow wings, I won't need to pay airfare anymore.	Alberta should not create an APP. Certainly should not pay the private sector to administer it.	DO NOT WITHDRAW, DO NOT USE AIMCO OR PRIVATE SECTOR	Return of investment, distributed risk, equity,	These questions are all based on dubious number that appear to have no chance of surviving an actual attempt withdraw capital from the CPP. This process seems entirely like a political process to somehow hold leverage over the federal government in a UCP fever dream. The CPP providing a good return to all Canadians. Making demographic assumptions that Alberta will continue to be a province drawing migration from other provinces, as the world moves through an energy transition is overly optimistic. What happens if population ages and the young, high paying oil and gas jobs disappear? What kind of risk analysis back the claims of the report? Please do not mess with Canadians pensions.

6219	Don't establish an APP. Its grossly proposed from reasearch that is even more grossly compiled.	Creating an APP administrator would be expensive and redundant. The private sector would be worse	At this point im going to point out who horribly structured this survey is. You have not ONCE provided options for people to voice their disagreement for an APP. The shaping of this survey should have been entrusted to people who are qualified and more mature	The APP is redundant and a horrible idea	This whole APP thing is pathetic. Its straight up fear mongering, and yet another virtue signal for the provincial politcal party to complain about Ottawa 'getting in the way'. Another multi million dollar nothing burger to stoke anger in albertans

6220	The panel should consider that the asset transfer would be nowhere near LifeWorks estimation. It's not at all realistic. 6232	The Panel should conclude that an Alberta Pension Plan is a bad idea, we should stick with CCP	we should keep the CPP	we should keep the CPP
6233	The panel should consider the national impact of removing these assets from the rest of Canada. It should also consider whether Albertans actually want this asset transfer to occur.			Not enough room to fully respond here.	Albertans do not want this. The report needs to be thoroughly vetted and questioned by the public, with public responses to issues raised before consent from public is sought. We do not want our pensions politicized. There is no mandate for this.
